No bro. Cancellation is probably because of a fault from your side. I'll only replace if the code doesn't work

Giving one vouch copy to a trusted member.

Can easily sell em for 5$/each on other forums so why would I lose codes on vouch copies

I ordered 17 from seller John F Kennedy and all came. I'm not sure if he's still selling though. Might buy from OP.

Avoid using same info when placing an order like CC/account/address, only 1 unit per order.

Google changed the criteria around the 15th, that is why you didn't have any problem.

Oh damn, do you have a source or are you just assuming?

I heard people were getting cancelled even before the 15th

If you read every thread where codes were sold, members started complaining about cancellations around the same date.

Did you change anything than when you first started ordering them?

I only ordered 17 because I didn't have enough $.

Damn, I wish I would've had enough for 100-200.

Campie - December 25, 2018, 10:44 pm

only emails were different.

Ratt Pack - December 25, 2018, 11:18 pm

I believe the criteria was changed around that time as well, ive had 100+ ship to multiple addresses, some address's with up to 4 units, using different cc and email every order.

You still can send 3-4 per address, just dont input billing info all the same, change details, dont use the same cc, use burner emails. Just make sure you dont surpass 3-4 or you risk them all getting cancelled.

I made sure to note 3 max per address when I was selling these. All the peoples orders who have been cancelled, once I contact buyer, every time, they have bought more off other sellers, hence more orders, same address.
