Thread: wanna get into the stock market?

EbonCipher - December 27, 2018, 5:57 pm

I've been doing research regarding the stock market. I just made my first $4k. I invested $600. I researched a bit and saw this dude make $3 mil with $27k.

I'm curious to know how much time it took him, but too lazy to watch the whole video

There really isn't any point in trying to beat the market. You may get extremely lucky but chances are you will lose your money. You aren't going to be able to beat investors with a lifetime of experience and knowledge until you have a lifetime of experience and knowledge also. If I were you I would put all your money into VGHCX.

1. you didn't make those returns op
2. the kid in the video didn't make those returns
3. what the kid said was fucking autistic. 30k returns in a day by shorting? read a fucking book. the strategy he is using works for paper trading; not in the real markets.
4. anyone that believes this is retarded

For Some reason , i dont fucking bileve YouTubers like this ,they are 99% of times fake their earning just for view , also you can't learn from these people just follow Real investors and their plans ,also stock market can earn you quite a goood money with good knowledge & experience

Good luck

Looks like he's doing put options. And with $27k he can get margin account and with options he can do even more. The guy in the video started young. You can learn anything over time and master it with enough effort.

Vanguard funds are definitely very nice. Set it and forget it. Start investing from your early twenties and you can have retirement funded by the age of 50 then choose to retire before you're 60.

The stock market is a risky but somewhat easy way to get richer if you know what you are doing and follow the right trends in the trade, I would recommend you learn all about it before going head first into it.
