Thread: [\[Official Group\] Famous - Recruitment #2](#)

Elysium - December 31, 2018, 9:30 am

About the group

Famous is directed towards all social media outlets, including, but not limited to, Instagram, Facebook, Twitter, YouTube, or Twitch. This is a group that will prosper together; helping each other grow our social media outlets one day at a time. For a limited time, we will be opening applications to members experienced in other fields. Each member will be expected to bring something to the table. This doesn't mean we expect you to have the biggest instagram account or facebook page, however we expect you to participate in group activities and share your knowledge with other members. We expect everyone to remain active within the group and participate within all group activities.

Tesla - December 31, 2018, 9:37 am

Which social media platform(s) are you on?:

Instagram

How big of a follower base do you have?:

40k+

What can you bring to the group?:

I can bring all my Instagram knowledge to anyone that needs help. I am looking to start monetizing my Instagram pages soon and it would be great to learn from others as well as maybe partner up with some people. I have managing and growing Instagram pages for several years and it is one of my main hobbies. I have made a decent amount over the past few years from Instagram but I soon hope to turn it into my occupation.

Why should you be selected for the group?

I have been growing Instagram pages for a few years and I am pretty much an expert. I took a break and recently came back and I have grown a few successful pages over the past couple months. I could help members of the group with everything I know and it would be great to be a part of a community with the same interests as me.

Do you have the time to remain active within the group, and will you be able to participate in all group activities?

Yes, I am very active here on HackForums and I would love to participate in all group activities.

Elysium - January 5, 2019, 3:06 pm

This thread has now been re-opened and will be the official Famous recruitment. Please post your applications below.

Pronouncer - January 5, 2019, 6:36 pm

Would apply but i think im blacklisted, even tho most the threads where mine, and the help desk wouldnt have been done without me pestering him for 3 weeks.

Which social media platform(s) are you on?: IG

How big of a follower base do you have?: 7k + 20k + 50k

What can you bring to the group?: Half the threads are mine in there

Why should you be selected for the group? Read above

Do you have the time to remain active within the group, and will you be able to participate in all group activities? HmMMM

Snowwy - January 5, 2019, 7:08 pm

Which social media platform(s) are you on?:

I am on a few different social media platforms, however, Instagram gets my most attention and efforts.

How big of a follower base do you have?:

My follower base on Instagram isn't that great as I am still learning new ways on how to gain more followers. The biggest follower base I have had is around 3,000. Like I said, I am still learning different ways on how to grow on ALL social media platforms.

What can you bring to the group?:

I like to think that I can bring a few different things to the group. I am always willing to learn new things and with that knowledge, I then like to help others with the different things I learn. I am a very friendly user and I am always willing to help out others when needed. I am a super active user and will be able to stay very active within the groups sub-forum. I also am able to contribute different things towards the group. I will always be willing to learn new things and will have a lot of motivation to teach new members of the group all sorts of different things.

Why should you be selected for the group?

I should be selected for the group for multiple reasons. I will be active within the groups sub-forum, as I am an active user on the site. I follow all rules and never break any and will have no issues in following group rules/policies as well as will have no issues at all completing any tasks set out for me by the group leaders. I am a friendly user that will always be willing to learn. I should also be selected as I have an interest in all types of social media and enjoy not only growing ALL types of different pages/accounts but also using all the different social media platforms available. I like meeting new people and talking with all sorts of different people and I strongly believe this group will allow me to achieve things I have set out to achieve.

Do you have the time to remain active within the group, and will you be able to participate in all group activities?

I will 100% remain active within the group and will 100% participate in all group activities.

whit3 - January 7, 2019, 6:34 am

Which social media platform(s) are you on?:

Twitter and Instagram.

How big of a follower base do you have?:

1-2k+

What can you bring to the group?:

I am a code and also designer I can help with building tools or helping the designers who want to share a post on social media platforms.

Also, I am working as a marketing manager on my startup so I know very useful tools to make accounts wanted and active. They can help users to reach out to their target users on social media. I can teach marketing methodologies to the community.

Why should you be selected for the group?:

Apart from the skills above, I want to grow and make them grow in a community like Famous.

Do you have the time to remain active within the group, and will you be able to participate in all group activities?

I generally take 100 bytes for posting 100 posts in a week in HF. I think I am enough active more than average members in Famous or HF.

So, yes.

What are your main skills(Not mandatory, but feel free to include threads/posts showing your contributions within these fields):

I'm mainly a software developer and know 10 coding languages. I can develop more or less anything these days but time is the key :)

What is your highest level of formal education?:

I went to high school and then they hired because our ex teacher was bad. So after that I kept working there for about a year and then swapped.

What can you bring to the group?:

Knowledge and good conversations.

Why should you be selected for the group?:

Because I'm awesome and I think famous sounds like an interesting group

Do you have the time to remain active within the group, and will you be able to participate in all group activities?

Yeah I have some spare time and will be involved in everything unless I'm not able to.

Extra:

I'm currently growing a social media page on Instagram.

skull - January 14, 2019, 4:39 am

What are your main skills(Not mandatory, but feel free to include threads/posts showing your contributions within these fields):

I'm a full stack developer building anything from mobile apps, automated bots and scrapers to web applications.

What is your highest level of formal education?:

I have an education in web development. Been working as a teacher for 6 months at the same education. After that I got a job as a software developer in a mobile platform building company where I have worked for over 5 years now handling everything from server scaling to application building.

What can you bring to the group?:

I can help with development of platform and web based applications along with different kind of bots. Along with that I can help people learn what I know.

Why should you be selected for the group?:

I am an active member of HF and would love to contribute within this group as well as anywhere else on the forum.

Do you have the time to remain active within the group, and will you be able to participate in all group activities?

I can dedicate time to group activities that may involve my set of skills, posts and threads are only for those which I believe I have something relevant to go comment with.

Applications have been reviewed and some members have been added. Keep the applications coming!

Dy1an - January 21, 2019, 5:20 pm

Which social media platform(s) are you on?:

Instagram/Twitter/Soundcloud/Spotify/Apple Music/Facebook

How big of a follower base do you have?:

35k+ All organic from music.

What can you bring to the group?:

I've grown myself personally from 0 followers up from personal methods that I've developed myself. I have a loyal following on all my social medias and a strong fan base, I think I could not only bring my social media knowledge to the group but also my musical knowledge that I have attained over the years. I might not have the most post on hack forums but I am but I am very known in real life and can bring a lot of insight!

Why should you be selected for the group?

I think I should be selected because I am somewhat of an celebrity in the real world, I'm on every musical platform and I have a knowledge panel on google. I also have multiple articles written on me from big names in the industry.

Do you have the time to remain active within the group, and will you be able to participate in all group activities?

I can be very active in the group, I'd like to become famous so I'm excited to trade ideas.

SoulZeh - January 27, 2019, 5:52 pm

Which social media platform(s) are you on and how big of a follower base do you have?:

I normally stream games from time to time and I am trying to grow my account. I also have an instagram that is mainly pictures of my dog, you'll rarely see any pictures of me on there but I've got a small follower base from that alone. WOO!

What are your main skills(Not mandatory, but feel free to include threads/posts showing your contributions within these fields):

In all honesty, as I went M.I.A from Hackforums a while back I lost all interest in programming/graphics design now I mainly like to just roam around the forum and doing the best I can to help people. Probably a big skill I have now, is drinking on the weekends.

What can you bring to the group?:

I can bring a good amount of knowledge, nothing really specific or anything like that, I like to think I've got knowledge in a lot of fields. I can bring a smile to peoples faces which is the best gift you can give anyone.

Why should you be selected for the group?:

I think I should be selected due to the fact I'm a very active user, I'm fun to have many conversations with and I've got loads planned for the future.

What is your highest level of formal education?:

No point in me really saying my grades as I'm from the United Kingdom and we do grading systems so weird, so let's just say I finished a college course in Business Administration NC course.

Do you have the time to remain active within the group, and will you be able to participate in all group activities?

I have all the time in the world and I would love to be a part of group activities, I can't wait to do pillow fights and even sleep overs.

Thank you my guys <3.

Elysium - January 27, 2019, 6:16 pm

All applications have been gone through at this time. If you were not accepted on the first round, feel free to reapply after a reasonable amount of time.

There are some big changes being made in the group as well as some new projects being worked. As such, recruiting is going to start to become progressively more stringent. With that being said, please ensure to keep the applications high quality. Additionally remember that this is a group focused on Social Media. We are absolutely willing to help people with growing their accounts so don't be afraid if you don't have 250k followers or the largest reach on any specific platform. We will be open to helping one another out and continue to share tips/tricks that have worked for us however if you are not actively involved or interested in Social Media then this may not be the group for you.

Why should you be selected for the group?:

Because everyone needs a Bear in their group.

What is your highest level of formal education?:

PhD.

Do you have the time to remain active within the group, and will you be able to participate in all group activities?

If the group is welcoming and fun, yes definitely. I am almost always on HF for my service.
If not fun or welcoming, I will ask to be removed myself.

Malikai - February 13, 2019, 12:26 am

Which social media platform(s) are you on and how big of a follower base do you have?: Instagram 10k followers

What are your main skills(Not mandatory, but feel free to include threads/posts showing your contributions within these fields): A little about myself, I am 19 years old recently graduated high school and now I'm a full-time student in college. I hope to become a software engineer one day and work with a large company like microsoft or google to develop and maintain software. So far I'm experienced in front-end web development as well as back-end (Connecting various API's mainly video game related API's). I try to prioritize my time best as I can, but I also play video games, listen to music a lot and browse hf ?

What can you bring to the group?: I'm interested in sharing my knowledge in web development, I also work a lot with computers (Constantly changing parts upgrading to newer better stuff) I think it would be cool to talk with other developers and share ideas.

Why should you be selected for the group?: Well, I'm entirely new to the forums, but once I get settled in I think I can make some decent contributions to the best of my ability. I'm always up for a challenge and to help anyone who needs it.

What is your highest level of formal education?: My highest level of education would be high school as I'm currently a full-time student in college.

Do you have the time to remain active within the group, and will you be able to participate in all group activities? Yes, I will have time to make contributions and help anyone I can. The main reason I want to join the group is so I can learn and also teach others what I know. Thank you for the opportunity!

Which social media platform(s) are you on and how big of a follower base do you have?: I am, I typically only use Facebook and Meetme. I have the friend limit max on Facebook and nearly friend limit max on Meetme. (formerly myyearbook)

What are your main skills(Not mandatory, but feel free to include threads/posts showing your contributions within these fields): I wouldn't say I have a particular set of skills but I do have a big audience for sure.

What can you bring to the group?:

I can bring high quality, warm and passionate energy. I can bring knowledge and advice on a variety of subjects. I can also bring contributions to the group and group members as a whole.

Why should you be selected for the group?:

I would like to gain an additional platform where I can hold meaningful conversations and to learn from others. I would like to also make and maintain long lasting friendships that'll start here and maybe even continue off the forum. I would like to mentor and be mentored by leadership and fellow people alike.

What is your highest level of formal education?: Some college - Aerospace Engineering

Do you have the time to remain active within the group, and will you be able to participate in all group activities?:

Yes, I constantly stay active and I can assure you'll see me always contributing to group events and discussions.

Since I couldn't contribute anything under the skills section I wanted to note my contributions here on Hackforums thus far of joining.

I have contributed and donated to the spread of positivity here on Hackforums. I have donated and gave away equal to or over 1,000 bytes. (Found in my thread history)

I have happily performed runescape questing services free of charge for a combined value of or more than $60.00. These can be found on my Marketplace Reputation though I have performed more work off site. (so that it doesn't seem I farm reputation.)

I have contributed several high quality postings talking people out of suicide, drug use or other personal problems.

I sincerely hope you consider accepting me into the family as this means more than you'd ever know to me. Thanks!

This guy just joined the forums 3 weeks ago and already almost has more posts than me and I've been here for 10 years. Plus, the times I see him posting, are usually HQ posts. Would definitely recommend group membership to him.

Mix - February 18, 2019, 7:01 am

Which social media platform(s) are you on?:

Youtube. IG & Twitch.tv

How big of a follower base do you have?:

I have had 1.4k on youtube and have a recently started my IG but its not related to you YouTube side so its at 100 followers. I Also have 800 followers on twitch.

What can you bring to the group?:

I believe with myself joining this group I can teach members on how to grow a small YouTube channel from nothing, then help them keep a good view count and a nice community of followers, that way they can have an active view count with what whatever they upload, also with my twitch knowledge I think I could help people bring new people to there streams and even gain a few subs along the way if they are good at what they do.

Why should you be selected for the group?:

I should be accepted into famous because I can share a good range of social media growing skills to people of the community, I have worked around social media since 2014 as a young boy and never really understood it until the later years of my life. Im not here for a user bar im here for the community.

Do you have the time to remain active within the group, and will you be able to participate in all group activities?:

Indeed, I am addicted to HF and will remain so until I get old, I hope to be apart of each and every group activity!

AlphaTurtle - February 18, 2019, 2:03 pm

Which social media platform(s) are you on and how big of a follower base do you have?:

Instagram (I've got a few accounts, the biggest is just over 4k) and Tumblr (I've got one blog with 50k and another one will hit 100k soon)

What are your main skills(Not mandatory, but feel free to include threads/posts showing your contributions within these fields):

I know a bit of everything. A bit of Photoshop, web design, Instagram bots, marketing and content creation. I'm just getting into this more and more because I have decided to start a SMMA, and I already have some clients, so I will learn a lot more about Social Media from now on.

What can you bring to the group?:

I love helping and teaching others. I might not know that much, but everything I learn I'm willing to share on the group. I can help those who want to grow on Tumblr, as I've grown a few accounts. It's usually easier for me to help someone when they have a specific need, rather than saying what I can help with, before knowing the needs.

Why should you be selected for the group?:

Because I'm willing to learn, but I'm also willing to help and teach others. Because I am starting a SMMA, Social Media will become a very important aspect of my life, so you'd be doing me a favor, but hopefully you'd be doing the group a favor as well by selecting me :)

What is your highest level of formal education?:

I'm from Europe, but you could say I finished college. Since I'm starting a SMMA I have yet to decide if I should do something more or not. I might not since Business Schools are kinda shit around here.

Do you have the time to remain active within the group, and will you be able to participate in all group activities?:

I know I haven't been active so much on HF lately, but I want to learn more, I love to teach others what I learn (I consider it to be a great way of retaining the information you learn), so if the group is HQ I will most definitely be active.

Which social media platform(s) are you on and how big of a follower base do you have?:

I am mainly on twitch and I have around 250 subs and over 2k followers.

What are your main skills(Not mandatory, but feel free to include threads/posts showing your contributions within these fields):

I am an IT specialist so anything related to software / hardware. I also am a certified graphics designer. Reference my sales thread for an example of my work:

My Sales Thread

What can you bring to the group?:

I can offer massive discounts on all of my products as well as provide HQ proxy lists to the group. If anyone needs any GFX done, then I'm your guy. Also good with most programming languages such as Java, C#, VB, Python and PHP. I will also be doing giveaways.

Why should you be selected for the group?:

I have been a member of this community for quite some time and I have been more involved as of late. I strive for professionalism and I am happy to help out anyone who needs assistance. I will be very active and do my part to stay in the group.

What is your highest level of formal education?:

I have all of my CCNA certs as well as many other certifications such as: Computer Systems Specialist, Computer Networking Specialist, CyberSec Specialist, Photoshop up to date, A+ CompTIA. I graduated from FSU with my computer science degree as my major.

Do you have the time to remain active within the group, and will you be able to participate in all group activities?:

Yes. I have full intentions of doing so :)

1. What experience do you have with eCommerce stores?:

Honestly, not very much at all. I'm applying in hopes i can learn more about it and open up my own online shop soon.

2. Do you wish to learn more about eCommerce topics including stores, templates, niches, supplier, ads, and more?:

Yes i do, as i mentioned before, i'm mainly applying so that i can learn more about this. I wish to open up a crystal/stone/gem shop online.

3. Are you currently running any shops? If so, how long have they been open?:

No i am currently not running any shops, but i have thought about it many many times.

4. Is there any information you want to share with us?:

If i knew more about eCommerce, i would definitely love to share. Sadly, i don't think i can provide enough useful information about it.
