Thread: Town of Salem Breached - 7+ Million Users Exposed

Hydra - January 2, 2019, 7:59 pm

Source: <https://gamerant.com/town-of-salem-hack-data-breach/>

BlackMediaGames (devs) stated your passwords are hashed. However, it's being discussed that they're not hashed securely. They use an old version of phpbb which uses salted MD5 and not the latest method, bcrypt.

If you do have an account on there with a recycled password, go change your passwords elsewhere. Always use a unique password, never reuse the same password.

Included in the breach:Usernames

Emails

Passwords

IP Addresses

Game and Forum Activity

Genuinely thank you so much for sharing this, I have two acc's with them and just changed passwords

Spaark - January 2, 2019, 8:25 pm

Ouch. Recycled passwords should always be changed regardless. I'm sure it will be a wakeup to many.

SelfConfrontation - January 4, 2019, 8:10 am

How many times does this have to happen before people learn not to use MD5 hashing anymore....

Anyone find where the DB is leaked at? Or being sold?

Or do you think the culprit(s) are going to sit on it for a while?

"we"

ok mister haxor

MysteryRider - January 4, 2019, 2:50 pm

Literally every major leak has been sold or just shared online.

There is no way those guys aren't gonna release it. The price will only lower the longer it takes.

I have some interest as well.

They will not leak it.

So you're saying they will sell it, just not yet?

Either way, I'm going to keep an eye out for it on some marketplaces. ? ?

can u pm me what marketplaces pleaseeee

Snowf0x - January 4, 2019, 3:20 pm

Are there any dumps shared from the database? Curious.

Yin Yang - January 4, 2019, 5:35 pm

Oh damn that's crazy 7+ mil ppl

?torm - January 4, 2019, 7:41 pm

That's crazy, used to always play this with my friends and family.

SIM-82498 - January 4, 2019, 7:42 pm

It has been reported leaked/shared on various RU forums, however passwords are still hashed.

Updated OP, article got it wrong then. Thanks

MysteryRider - January 7, 2019, 4:14 am

As if i want payment information. I need account names xD

Too bad they won't release anything and just use it for personal use.

Its time for them to upgrade the security!

ZeroToHero - January 8, 2019, 8:25 pm

Is there any dump yet? Hit me up with a PM if you have a source.

Lakai - January 9, 2019, 2:17 pm

How the fuck do you have 7 mil users and let a data breach of this big happen.

Bluffer - January 9, 2019, 2:38 pm

I find this a bit amusing. They should've had somebody on staff who kept the forum software updated.

I'm just mindfucked on the password shit. They got breached, fine. But now the passwords are exposed too. They are/were on a super old version of phpBB. If they had just upgraded from 3.0.12 to 3.1.0, they would've been much better off after a breach as the passwords would've been hashed using bcrypt. MD5 is weak as fuck with today's tech.

This is the version they are on: <https://www.phpbb.com/community/viewtopic.php?t=2200921> (9/28/2013)

This is the version the hashing method was improved:
<https://download.phpbb.com/pub/release/3.1/3.1.0/> (10/28/2014)

So they've had 4 fucking years to upgrade

BCrypt is good? I'm not a hacker just a small developer that uses BCrypt for all of my passwords
