Abortion now legal in Ireland

A bill signed into law by President Michael D. Higgins is now in full swing and will provide women with access to abortion for the first time, legally. The bill's terms were wrapped up in the Seanad earlier in December after weeks of argumentative discussion "in both the Dáil and Seanad." If you're not familiar with Irish politics, the Dáil Éireann is one of the Houses of the Oireachtas, and the Seanad Éireann is the higher level of the House of Oireachtas that possesses 60 members known as Senators. The bill introduces a referendum that suggests removing the Eighth Amendment from Ireland's Constitution, "which guaranteed the unborn and mother an equal right to life. Some 67 per cent of the electorate voted to repeal the amendment."

As the Medical Council deleted final provisions from its code, the President then signed it. By removing provision from the bill's code, this will mean that there are no ethical guidelines that must be followed when performing abortions conducted by doctors. Amending was done, primarily by agreeing to delete four of the five paragraphs that dealt with abortion from its guide because it conflicted with the Health Act, which refers to the Regulation of Termination of Pregnancy. "Two of the four deleted paragraphs state that a doctor has an ethical duty to make every reasonable effort to protect the life and health of pregnant women and their unborn babies; and that in exceptional circumstances, it may be necessary to terminate the pregnancy to protect the life of the mother while making every effort to preserve the life of the baby." Iranian Parliament reject motion to ban marriage of girls under thirteen

Iranian Majles has rejected a motion to ban child marriage this past week. "A member of women's faction in the Islamic Republic's parliament, Tayyebah Seyavoshi says, 'The Legal and Judicial Commission of Majles has rejected a parliamentary motion that proposed a ban on allowing under thirteen-year-old girls to marry.'" Following the rejection, Seyavoshi said that they are waiting for the Commission's official report, then they will decide on how to proceed. Yahya Kamalpour, a member of the Legal and Judicial Commission, stated that the motion was rejected after "Grand Ayatollahs and sources of emulation" violently opposed it. While defending the motion, Seyavoshi said that more than 300 girls under age nine, "and between 30,000 to 40,000 girls under 13-14 years old marry in Iran."

On 4 December 2018, a prominent woman and member of the Islamic Republic's Cultural and Social Council for Women defended child marriage, claiming it protects the young children from a lifetime of forced prostitution and illegal abortions. Fereshteh Rouhafza, the referenced woman, told state-run Iran Labor News Agency, that "in light of the rapidly growing number of increasingly young girls undergoing illegal abortions and joining the sex trade, 'opposition to child marriage is wrong.'" Rouhafza, the woman in charge of planning and policy for the council, has not provided any evidence or sources for the numbers she has been provided, further stating the statistics are available, but it would be irresponsible to release them to the public. TOPIC: When it comes to the Hack Forums marketplace, there are lots of well-known and reputable members. Who do you think is the most well-known user to ever sell a product on HF?

"I'll have to pick between Kill Joy and MMLF. I would trust this guys with my eyes closed."
~mentoles

"Vyrez - despised by many, but like him or not he was amazing at marketing and profited greatly."
~Lukas

"Vyrez or Fade"
~mvmt

TOPIC: Do you think the value of groups will ever rise again? Why or why not?
"As of now, there are 3 groups being sold. Their price has been going down since the owners want them off their hands. Prices are about to go up when none or one group remains for sale. I don't know though where the price could go. A 5k price-tag would be reasonable if only one group gets available for sale."
~mentoles

"Truthfully, no. The overall quality of groups is no great at the moment, and people aren't wanting to spend thousands on leading a group. Most just want to spend a couple hundred on some awards to give their e-peen a little tug."
~Lukas

"No, they are becoming more and more worthless with HF's activity decreasing. Every group that was ever created ended up being dead within a few months"
~mvmt

TOPIC: What do you think of the new feature "Country Code Lock"? Will you be using it on your account?
"Another way to keep your account safe. It should be useful for everyone, especially people with high valued accounts.
Imagine going to another country and forgetting to disable the country lock! xD"
~mentoles

"Yea. Too many snitches coming for my dome rn not too."
~Lukas

"No, I use VPN's a lot."

Nice news edition, I thought I wouldn't make it in it after everything that happen in the thread.

webdev77 - January 3, 2019, 8:46 am

News must have been done before all the new Crews were purchased. Still, nice work as always.

Roytoy - January 3, 2019, 8:50 am

Omg the second battlestation is so goals. Thanks for the edition!

iNviZ - January 3, 2019, 10:59 am

Great job as always. Really enjoyed the read.

I was thinking the same. I forgot to report that I purchased a new crew.

A solid edition.

The Battlestations are just dazzling. They look so good.

(Wishing to have one like that in the future - added to bucket list)

Regards, Wolf ?
