Thread: Horus God \(UID=547589\) | CubedCloud does not allow "everything"

Vanilla - January 4, 2019, 11:32 am

Hello HF,

I recently purchased Horus God's CubedCloud hosting to test if they really allowed everything as advertised. To my surprise, 12 hours from uploading files to it, I browse to the domain and it says account suspended. CubedCloud suspended the domain without prior notice.

Horus God is a HF veteran and not sure why he would falsely advertise about allowing "everything". I even started my own reseller hosting with the same company he uses and as I am sure everyone saw it did not turn out so well (Thank you Pro).

I just want to warn anyone from making the mistake I did. Thank you.

Offshore hosting ?

Unlimited everything ?

Everything allowed ?

From HF ?

Dirt cheap ?

Who would have guessed? Its apparently a LQ host.

Horus God is pretty chill, gave me a lot of time to complete his contract, which was suspiciously delayed for 3-4 weeks before completion (suspicious on my part, but wasn't directly my fault).

That being said, you should probably talk to him, because I seriously doubt he understands English that well, no offense Horus.

Yeah, I took the bait and copied his reseller and it was not bulletproof either haha.

Yeah, he seems cool but not sure why I would get suspended unless he got a email from net craft take-downs and took it down but still definitely not everything allowed.

You forgot the 24/hr lifetime support

Pretty sure this also goes for 99% of hosting services. People just say shit to get buyers

Says you right?
Forgot to mention you admitted to using the same provider as him, and also sell fake bulletproof.

? ? ? and there you have it.

Anywho, not sure why Horus God has such shitty market practices. I questioned him regarding his 'Everything Allowed' policy and all he says is, "It's coming soon", yet doesn't remove that clause from his thread.

People read my posts, go to my profile, and -rep me lolol. They are such virgins they they waste their time trying to do a small troll out of saltyness. I always wanted to just do a troll back where I +1 them for the lols. The problem with that plan is they will go "lol not much -rep. Doesn't matter" lol, that's cause none of it matters.
