This is really awesome. Purchased it yesterday from another forum and i used on 3 shells and it WORKED GREAT. Got 103 IE hits from really bad shells and my exploit kit got them all :D Vouch!

Alles auf Rot - January 7, 2019, 2:08 pm

I was able to test the bots. They are perfect as described, was able to gain a lot of logs using this service.

I definetly recommend everyone to buy this as long you can.

BIG VOUCH +++

*Bots get killed fast and don't come back on, resells same installs over and over again.

Ordered 100/15$ yesterday and received 8, pm'd the seller and received 30 and within an hour after updating my feedback more than 90% got killed. Think twice before buying.

Pr0xyed - January 17, 2019, 3:15 pm

Stats have now been added to shop. 45 minutes left for the Monero integration to be completed, just doing some testing of it.

Supports both old-school wallets and new school wallets.

Hey there, Professor. Like to multi account?

Decafeine - January 18, 2019, 1:04 pm

Purchased 400 loads yesterday and i can't complain. Support was fast when site redirected my stats incorrectly but got the right stat link after fast communication. Today i came back to leave my vouch, the bots was mostly windows 10 and 7 and some windows 8 and they are still online. Today had 387 online in total.

You must be legit mentally retarded or something. Whats the point in killing bots when they get thousands everyday? I bought here before and never had problems. Get a better botnet or rat or whatever crap you are using. obviously low quality produced.

Important, jabber.ru has some issues finding remote hosts so all friend requests are not handled by the server properly.

Therefore we have created a secondary jabber that you can use to contact us.

Jabber: ruletk@exploit.im

Also for file hosting then we have discovered a new site by Hackforums member, Meedman, its for direct links.

Discover the site here: <https://dropmyb.in>

Its a pretty funny history actually, the user paid for loads from me and he received 8 out of 120 and i was like, this is a really bad execution ratio and he insisted that the problem was me, I told him, its not me and i can send you 120 installs to proof it, which he then received about 40 of and he was still not statisfied so i told him, perhaps that it was his crypter and he told me, "No no no its your end" and i told him, if he has bad ratio on both loads and installs then its him and not me.

I then told him to give me his file raw and i crypted it and sended it to him, I told him that again i would send 100 more installs and then he complained about double executions but ofcourse, i sended him installs twice and he received after my crypt alot of installs compared to his previous ratio.

He was then not cable of accepting that i sended him installs and started complaining even i told him i would do so to proof facts.

In reality his wrong but im not going to waste my time argueing with him.

I sended him twice installs free of charge cause i felt bad for his low execution ratio and didnt feel like leaving him with nothing.

Well explain how all the loads/install you have me are gone after not even 24h?

I never had any issue like this execpt for Pinkpanther loads, so thus.

If you decide to buy of vendor keep in mind he (could) botkilling and also selling you already infected machines.

Yesterday I was running some test on the machine that came true and all of them had malware already on them, OP is very chiddish and will tell you to suck his cock when you tell him somthing is wrong.

I'd highly advice to stay away from this, LQ loads/Installs. Also not even one from USA/UK, also barly any from any good country you would like.

Some of the loads also had high as fuck ping of all the malware already running on the computer.

Like I said DWC.

OP also after that started telling me to suck his dick and started to say he recorded me and was saying am a retard...

Worldmix loads are only available from the website, it might change later.

For geotargeted loads or installs or geotargeted installs then contact me like said on the thread.

I bought 100 loads from the site and uploaded to anon file BE WARNED if the link you give isn't a direct link to a download you will get 0 loads and your money will be forfeit. Apparently when you dont give a direct link it turns the HTML of the page into an exe and loads it instead of your file. Seems like a design oversight, here I am with 15 less dollars an no loads GLWS but be warned there is no refunds for a reason. No where in the thread does it say an invalid link will lead to html binded exe to be ran and subsequently the loss of all the loads you have paid for.

There is a huge warning on the thread on not using anonfile.

Its very simple, its loads and they come from exploits so if your order is fulfilled then we dont give 100 more free of charge, its not how the world works.

The file did pass standard checks like if url is online and url contains executeable format, there is a reason that we said that its session based.

I dont have to pay for your mistake so you can sales thrash like a child but it is not my fault.

I dont have to pay for your mistake so you can sales thrash like a child but it is not my fault. the issue is your service does not do simple things that would make this a non-issue to begin with, with some php and curl you can check what kind of file a specified web resource is, yet you do not do that? You also dont advertise that with an invalid link, you lose your money. I also find it funny to see that you posted some of our jabber conversation to try and discredit what I said, what i said before was nothing but the truth and a warning to other customers. Me sending that to you on jabber was a joke, if i was trying to sales trash i would have lied.

I explained already, I check if the URL contains .exe, I dont check the content thats written to the executeable thats generated on my servers.

Do you even know how it works? If i have to download from a website, I have to COPY the content and write it into a new file which is already a executeable file and i have to randomize the filename so that it dont conflict with other users orders that could have named the file like you.

So yes, commit a mistake and you lose your money and not my problem, its on the thread, You pay for executions. Pay attention.

My system directs you to a stat page and if you had tracked it, then you would have been able to contact me BEFORE it was fulfilled and i would have sent to another file.

So, as far as I can see , after reading the whole thread, this user sells HQ loads fast, and it's just the non-fud Crypters / .Net RATs which fucks the amount of loads you get, right? I'm very sure, I'll buy loads soon. To those of you who can't handle loads: Buy a fucking HQ crypter (most important - better a private stub), and better use native controllers (RAT's or Nets).

I was sleeping, you are acting strange. You wasted my time with traffic that was fake as fuck so that you got more bots for the money, you could just have requested the bots immediate instead of acting like something that you aren't enough said. Just post the logs here so everyone can see as i said nothing wrong but i understand, the way you acted was embarrassing for you.

Proxies.tv - April 24, 2019, 9:13 am

What I did with the traffic was an experiment because you didn't have the bots available that you were selling. So I tried to drive traffic to your method. When that didn't work, you ignored me for 2 days on messenger until the moment I disputed the contract. However, you are still under contract and 4 days later after you took my money on day 1, you still haven't delivered on the contract. This is the definition of a scam.

Thats simply not true. I replied you yesterday, i recommend you to post the logs or i post them because i don't like liars.

I didn't ignored you for 2 days, i replied you yesterday and the period where you tried to use your method lasted for 2 days, the last thing you said to me was not asking for the delivery nor a refund but to let you know once i start sending and this was late night when i was sleeping because i had to get my own traffic cause you wasted time with bot traffic.

You where the one mentioning traffic and that you could give IE traffic and we could split the margin that this traffic could provide so i provided the serving page which contained the exploits and blacktds is a respected clocking service and it did its job, filtered your bottled traffic. You where the one who wasted my time from the beginning, if you shut up at the moment and let me use someone who provide real traffic then bots would have arrived the same day. I would be high, stupid or retarded if i where to scam someone for 75 USD when all my other contracts are primarily for much higher amounts than your pocket money.

The definition of a scam? mabye you should look this up cause its not so hard to find the meaning of a scam on google or some other search engine. "The definition of a scam is someone lieing about a product that can not be delivered intentionally without being willing to refund or deliver the purchased product."

But i'm done arguing with your over your pocket money, you can reply on jabber and then the problem can be solved my child.

EDIT:

You keep changing amount of days, that's retarded.

Proxies.tv - April 24, 2019, 3:45 pm

We only start with my traffic because you didn't have any bots in the first place. You relied on a third party for that and after waiting several hours for your "friend" to provide that traffic to you, it never happened. So I said let's try some of my traffic. That's the only reason that started at all. My traffic didn't work for your system so 2 days ago you told me you were still waiting for your "friend" to provide that traffic. Obviously after 4 days your "friend" did not follow through. So now we're at day 4, 2 days after I stopped my traffic, and still you have provided nothing. Even if I did not say anything at all in the past 48 hours, which I did, you still should have followed through on the contract and delivered. It wasn't until I posted a complaint on your thread last night that you finally said something today and that was in regards to saving face and trying to limit damage control. Your messages to me about you haven't been sleeping in 3 days is not my concern. You are obligated and under contract to deliver your services regardless of whether I tried to help you with traffic. Your obligation is to deliver, not try to blame the customer as to why you cannot deliver after 4 days.

Let's take a look at your outstanding contracts right now:

I see 3 outstanding contracts for products that your selling. 1 contract was issued the same day I came to you. The next 2 days later on 22nd, and another today. I'm not surprised in the least regarding your outstanding contract from the 20th. That buyer probably ordered the same thing I did. I see you as falling behind in your services and not being forthright and honest to your customers about it. If you are having difficulties, you need to man up and be honest about it.

I'll let the picture speak for itself.

Additionally to this, your behaviour has been extremely unprofessional based on VPNflux's recounting of events. As a bot seller, you deliver bots. That's all you do. Saying that you are unable to deliver due to a friend not sending over traffic is not an adequate reason as to why you were unable to deliver. As a seller here, your reputation is based on what customers say on the thread. It determines whether you make a sale, or if the potential buyer clicks off the thread.

By not spending the sliver of time it takes to be attentive with a paid and contracted customer, you are showing that you don't care, and by trying to work your way out of it by saying you slept for three days and that you are waiting on a friend. I would like for you to consider this and think about the effect that your actions have on your business.

I will delete this if you work everything out with VPNflux. I don't even know the dude or have I ever talked to him.

Have a good day ?

This. I couldn't agree more. VPNFlux is my partner and I can tell he is a legitimate person, I don't think he would waste your time for anything. He paid for a service and you have to deliver it as soon as possible or at least refund rather than telling him you have a lot of contracts, vouches, trust or money.

I sent vpnflux a message regarding this, I said that once it is resolved he can decide if i am to take it down or not. I am sure this can be resolved civilly.

Proxies.tv - April 24, 2019, 5:04 pm

@Jasonfaps: I was just about to reply to that message but thought I'd refresh the page here first. The issue here is that once I made it publicly known that I was disputing the contract, he became verbally abusive on messenger and then came here and posted a bunch of nonsense about having this and that and this. I don't care about his vouches and all that. I care about this contract not being delivered after 4 days. But the fact of the matter is that he doesn't have what he's selling. He's relying on the fallout ek and he doesn't have his own traffic for it. He relies on a third party for that and obviously that third party can't deliver the traffic to him. So he's stuck in a situation he can't get out of, and instead of trying to resolve the matter, he becomes verbally abusive and tries to blame everything on me and clucking and crowing about how great he is and how much money he has. He still has not resolved this situation.

Proof? You can say anything that you want but its simply not true. I told you that i had to order traffic but then you ranted about you had traffic, you asked me to split the margin if i exploited your traffic and this i said yes for and it is as simple as that.

Then when you failed extremely hard with your fake traffic then i was obligated to buy traffic, yes simple as that but since you keep writing rather than providing a file then its hard for me to send you anything. You didnt even know about fallout before i told you about it lmao so dont try to sound fancy now. What you expected? You need IE traffic so everyone using a exploit kit get traffic from a thirdparty... so what your saying just sounds stupid.

I was sleeping at the moment when you said if i heard something and while i slept, you didn't private message me or anything, you just opened a dispute.

Since you read the contract from the 20th, what does it say? Cause it sure as hell ain't bots its about ?

You can keep lieing but im much more trusted than you and you only provided one picture about me telling you that if you didnt wasted my time, order would have been handled same day. If you send me your file, i send you bots if you dont like you haven't then you can keep talking as much as you please but i wont be able to send anything.

(Apr 24, 2019 09:13 AM)VPNFlux Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) What I did with the traffic was an experiment because you didn't have the bots available that you were selling. So I tried to drive traffic to your method. When that didn't work, you ignored me for 2 days on messenger until the moment I disputed the contract. However, you are still under contract and 4 days later after you took my money on day 1, you still haven't delivered on the contract. This is the definition of a scam.

I am sorry to say it but i agree with Pr0xyed. Dont timewaste people because it do not matter if he use a thirdparty for traffic cause he has to under all circumstances. Facts are... YOU WANTED HIM TO HELP YOU EXPLOIT YOUR TRAFFIC so if his exploiting your traffic and he was exploiting his friends traffic then i have a hard time figuring out how that he would be able to figure out the exploit rate of your traffic. I dealt with Pr0xyed alot and like your partner vouched for you then i vouch for pr0xyed. Next time dont be dumb and offer something and waste his time. Just be like a normal customer and the situation might have been different.

//Peace.

Sorry to see this happened to you brother, from my knowledge the service never worked and always had some bad reviews. Now the user is no longer apart of our forum, I hope this one bad experience does not deter you from our community.

I can't stress enough that it's very important to read this very nicely, extensively written thread by Vitani. It truly has helped me a lot with understanding the contract system, and how to use it to the best of it's abilities.
