Thread: [\[SERVICE\] Secure ANY Twitter handle \[SAFE & SECURE\]](#)

Red Light - January 8, 2019, 8:26 pm

Hello HackForums,

I'm going to cut the bullshit and get straight to the point. I can get any Twitter handle you'd like (within reason).

I understand that i'm a brand new user so there will be people thinking i'm scamming. Putting that all to rest right now by stating i'm fine with using a middleman so please keep your "scam" comments to yourself. I will not be touching the money until the handle is secured.

Information / Pricing (Click to View) Information The handle has to have been inactive for at least 5 years. (2014)

The handle has to be at least 2 characters.

Prices will range from $1000-2000 depending on the username.

Additional Information (Click to View) Additional Information

1. You should know that this won't be a 30 minute deal, it can take some time acquiring these handles so if you aren't patient this is not the service for you.
2. Please note that I will not touch the funds until I have the handle, the middleman will hold the funds until I have the handle in my possession so you have nothing to worry about.
3. The reason I only offer a 50% refund if you pull out is because I have expenses for acquiring these handles, if you decide to pull out and I get the handle, that means i'm out money.
4. If I am unsuccessful in getting the handle (we can arrange a time limit if you want) then you will receive a full refund

For more information feel free to message me, thank you

ToS (Click to View) Terms Of Service

1. You will pay the fee upfront to a middleman. You agree that you will NOT pull out of the deal, if you do, you will only receive a 50% refund.
2. I only accept Bitcoin.
3. I take no responsibility for what happens to the account after it leaves my hands. (Has never happened before, just a precaution)

I'm just going to ignore your further posts because you obviously didn't read my thread at all.

What's fishy? I clearly stated a middleman will hold the funds so please take your stupid comments elsewhere, thank you!

Who would pay the mm fee? Thinking most mms would charge no matter if you obtain the requested handle or not. Cool service if you really get some usernames tho!

Good point. The buyer would pay the MM fee. It's extremely rare I can't get a handle but you raise a good point, I'll have to think of a way to deal with the rare occasion this may happen, id probably end up paying the MM out of my pocket

May be interested in this, but have a quick question since it's not mentioned in your thread. Are these @s going to be put on fresh accounts or are you just providing access to the account that it's currently on? I'm curious since you mentioned that the name just has to be 2 or more characters when you can't swap anything that's under 5.

It'll be put on a new account, correct, you can swap the username off of the new account if you want a username with more than 5 characters. If not you'll have to use the account provided. This is not me jacking the accounts so I can have a username with less than 5 characters transferred to a new account.

Well then, I see HackForuiks is still a toxic forum, sad to see.

Also seems people don't even read threads and just call anyone new a scammer.

Bump!

Good luck but you have to expect peoples caution as you're a new user but as your offering to use a MM they shouldn't be as worried.

Can you obtain users that says it's suspended?

Also, can you obtain users where the page doesn't exist?
