1. PRICE: It's a bit expensive but he gave me a reasonable discount, anyways, if you're gonna use this for doxing or any other things you want to do this exploit does the job.

2. EXPLOIT: Not really complicated to use if you are familiar with CLIs, you can even make this as a service if you know how to code.

3. RESULT : This Exploit toolkit really delivers what it promises, tested it on few accounts and it really works!

No worries bro, this isn't gonna get patched anytime soon.

It's not about being patched. It's more like the email extractor is useless in terms of exploits. If a password was returned along with the email + phone number then yes it would be worth to pay $1200 or however much you priced it at.

You must be high right now, no Social Media would create a password returning function, This exploit retrieves vital information that could be used for Doxing or password reset

LOL I'm not high right now no. You are charging extortionate prices for something that returns just an email and tel number if account has one. It's a rip off. Even for DOXing purposes. Obviously Twitter left a loophole in their API that you found. It's still not worth spending $1200 on it.

If this is legit then it's worth the money you are asking but without some kind of proof I don't see anyone buying this.

It's okay man, still those informations are vital that's why they can't be revealed in the first place.

not really known on here but i had vulns in the past for social media and stuff, if u can pull 1 as a example for me let me know.

Would be interested in purchasing or maybe just buying the vuln by itself and code something for it this just seems like the doxagram exploit but on twitter not that hard to make, $1000 seems a bit steep

SIM-82498 - January 18, 2019, 6:27 pm

I'm cackling at the idea of this being "overpriced" lol. If you don't know how useful this may be to the right person, then this isn't for you.

@OP, price is good, can be sold for a lot more if u know the right ppl however, if u can do this a service then i'll buy or resale for you (per user)

Imao, if it returned the password you know how much more this would go for? You can jack accounts worth more than 1k, hell no would it go for 1k with password retrieval. But regardless, this is definitely worth it. Just the email can lead to a lot of jacking opportunities, further more the phone number. And thats not to say all the other SE related shit you could do with both.

I am personally very skeptical, I was very close to purchasing (Inc Contract) but last min i made an account with new email to make sure it's working and he refused and backed out?

So very close - Don't understand why he wouldn't... He's posted 'Proof' on this thread but I'm legit not sure why he wouldn't do it for me? If it doesn't work on fresh accounts just say lol or work at all..

Not sure why he would back out of a $1k sale for the sake of proving it's integrity. OP, you could have had another sale and just as importantly, another solid vouch.

It wad for $1k but it was a deal that was worth his wild... a good vouch, an amazing opportunity and btc.

This guy offered me a deal for a review and lowballed for $300, I agreed, but then he starts to ask for proofs again, I already posted a proof for a guy claimed that this does not work, So Why would I post some 'fake proof' for a user accusing me that this doesn't work.

Anyway this is the Last copy.

Why wouldn't you prove it? Its a script, OP claims his in a "Really important meeting" yet hes on HF replying to Pm's... ok. It isn't hard to run it against and account... even if you dont sell it too me for everyone else it's good proof from a reputable HF user.

Look man, it's not a business meeting , it's a personal one, so Don't act like a baby.

The deals off no one took your $300 for nothing. stop crying.

I'm really not crying - Nor saying your not legit. Just letting people are but you're being incredible odd. just warning other users.

Effexion - January 19, 2019, 5:04 am

A quick execuuiou of your script would have landed you another sale. I kind of feel sorry for the dude that bought it at $900 when you were going to let it go for $300.

This reeks of suspicion. I'm sorry, OP but you're going to have to give me a vouch copy to prove it now ?.

Well, I know how to get this info:

Current Address (Inluding past ones)

Email Addresses (Inluding past ones)

Phone Numbers (Inluding past ones)

I just need the target full name and if it is in the database Bang!

And a lot more info with the right time.

I like your smart tool tho.

Any way of turning your method into a tool?

user9779 - January 19, 2019, 5:28 am user is cap, he ghosted me after he told me he would show proof on one of my accounts, the email in the screenshot of the tool isn't connected to a twitter either
