I don't know what are you talking about the discord, but I have a right to dox any scammer.

The forum rules don't allow to post dox information in forum and I didn't post it.

I have the information for me.

Please ban this rat.

If you aren't willing to resolve the issue and speak with the member then it looks bad on your end and he will most likely not get banned as he is attempting to resolve it.

Deals done on HF are at your own risk.

This has nothing to do with the admins.

Admins also don't look at chatlogs done on third party apps such as shitcord.

Personally when I'm doing exchanges, I do not log off from the time I accept it, till the guy I'm exchanging with has received his funds. (Unless of course he sends, and then takes several hours to reply me with an address to send to) But that has never happened.

No matter what, if millw0rm hasn't delivered, then he should refund period.

Skrill Man, may I ask how long from the time you did the contract, till you got banned? Was it like same day, a week after or?

What I'm asking is, from the moment you paid him at the beginning, how much time did he have to refund you before you were banned from the boards?

It is not a third party app deal, open your eyes and look correctly that it is via forum contract system.

Omni does scroll through this forum every now and then, so if everything's fine, he'll be banned, don't worry.

Haven't read the whole thread, but from what i can tell so far is that milw0rm acts very unprofessional. If you want to run a business fix your stupid attitude. It doesn't matter whether OP tries to trashtalk and so on. Lower your voice and strengthen your argument.

I understand your situation, personally I have been working on a similar job and respecting your customers comes your top priority, even though they act like a dickheads. When you start insulting them you show you are on their level. Best of luck resolving this

?lex - January 23, 2019, 11:47 am

I am with Dotexe on this one.

I am working as a support agent on a website that offers the similar service like yourself, but a lot bigger. We have a lot of dickhead customers that curse and think they are always right, but you gotta find a way to fix the situation without insult someone, because not only you'll lose them as a client, but you might even get bad reputation..

Good luck.

He is lying guys, this piece of a shit never sent me message where he agrees to pay my money back. This is the dickhead seller moment:)

He only sent me insults and etc)) I have all screenshots.

Here is his last message screen: <https://imgur.com/TZberMr>

Look people, and this is not a proof that this guy is a clown or a scammer.

He told me that he is on vacancy and will be back from 3 weeks, but he is always online and even have a time to complete deals and etc.

And of course if he complete deal, means he has a money from it and can pay the debt!

Look at screen and you will see contract deals date and time.
