Thread: Got my dream car

eComrade - January 19, 2019, 10:52 am

Just wrote a nice check to mercedes benz dealership for this beauty below. I remember working at a grocery store last year @ $10/hour haha. I usually only spend money on investments but this here is something I have been visualizing a long time.

BTCZeus - January 19, 2019, 12:09 pm

Congrats mate! I remember upgrading from a shitty old Chrysler to a BMW X5. Nothing like that feeling once you become financially capable =). I've also found that I've achieved much longer lasting happiness through paying for experiences rather than material possessions I could previously not afford, such as traveling a continent in the summer time.

Nothing wrong with a little indulgence though!

SomeRandom - January 19, 2019, 12:52 pm

Porsche - January 31, 2019, 12:53 pm

Yeah I feel you man it's hard to resist throwing money into something you want, I could've bought my dream car for a bit now but I know I can't afford it long term and I don't want it to dig into my savings as i'm trying to build a really strong portfolio.

mrknol - January 31, 2019, 1:03 pm

Why is it that every "method" seller is always showing some sort of image of something they bought or bragging about their earnings always lol.

OP, nice car man. Congrats

PerfectStorm - February 5, 2019, 3:49 pm

Very nice care bro.

You should be happy, not everyone actually gets their dream car. I am saving for one too.

Research a little more about me, you'll know why I don't sell my methods, coz mine actually work and I don't have to make money by selling "methods" lol
