Looking for something good to watch. I rarely watch movies, but some of the latest I've seen are 21/22 Jump Street and Ted 1/2. That shit had me cracking up. Is there anything that you guys could recommend?

Hitman's bodyguard is good. Pulp fiction. Even though it's not mainly a comedy movie, it's just a great movie all around and the humor is great. Dictator is also good as someone suggested.

"The other guys" was also pretty funny imo

Borat, Dictator. You can watch all films with Alexander Baron Cohen. Very funny

Vice is the best comedy movie.

The Narrator - February 6, 2019, 6:02 pm

I think you'd like Pineapple Express. It's a James Franco and Seth Rogan film.

eddyjhoel - February 7, 2019, 2:56 pm

You can find many in netflix.

Blazing Saddles & Airplane for a couple of the classics - nonstop laughs in both, and they don't hold back in the way that modern comedies do. Blazing Saddles couldn't be made today. Also, they'll help you get a lot of cultural references.

For newer ones, Zoolander, Anchorman, and Tropic Thunder are three of the best of the past twenty years. Also, The Other Guys.

123 - February 8, 2019, 11:45 am

Okay so no one mentioned Jim Carey's movies.

Dumb and Dumber 1&2
Ace Ventura

Audek - February 10, 2019, 6:12 am

I would recommend The Three Stooges (2012) and Johnny English Strikes Again (2018)
