Just throwing some ideas out there. Do you think uploading to YouTube and using their auto generated subtitles to translate would suffice? I'm not sure myself because Syrian language can't be that great at Youtube but worth a try.

Did you also try Siri by any chance? If you say a sentence Siri will try translating.

That sucks. If no luck here try some question and answer websites like quora, reddit, yahoo answers etc. I have had translation success there for different matters.

I actually have tried both. Someone ends up saying they will do it but then dont.
