Omniscient - January 21, 2019, 2:04 pm

All Bytes (MYPS Plugin) and related features are currently closed.

Please do not be alarmed. We are working out a solution for the issues created by the Scratch Card system we released yesterday.

We hope to have everything restored later this afternoon.

Thank you.

They didn't fuck anyone what are you talking about, most of the damage done is already fixed and i'm certain they will continue to focus on that when needed.

xMannyG - January 21, 2019, 4:16 pm

They wanted to try something new and it didn't go as planned so it was rolled back? Why make it something more than it is. Not everything pushed to production works and needs to be fixed or altered, if you decided to go and try to cash in on something which you knew didn't seem right you fully deserve to lose the money you spent.

your definition of "fix" is not the real meaning... it would require an actual fix not rolling back and then changing a number in some code to change a win rate... i was not warned and bought bytes 15 mins before they were reduced... then go back to less than i had before the game came out? nahhhh

And that is why you aren't admin of a huge forum like this one.

To many bytes were paid out to the point the market couldn't regulate itself unless bytes payouts changed in slots and other games aswell and posting bytes would need to be increased tho which means that if they changed the scratch game rates to be lower and "hoped" that the market would regulate itself then eventually they would need to do a rollback anyways because the market would never regulate more properly anymore unles Omniscient would agree with all the new crews, signature sales and award sales that happened and the flutation of the Bytes value which would have made no sense if he did that.

The best decision were made today by staff.

Yes definitely especially for the people who decided to fast sell 50k bytes for 10$, now looking at these threads afterwards it's clear they were in a huge rush to sell and they most likely expected this roll back to happen it's sad.

We rolled back the Bytes, not the logs. He bought TODAY. He's now closed for being a troll.

And as most noticed. We just started to undo one thing then another and soon enough we just did everything. So more or less I'd say 99% of things are back to normal. A few anomalies we've tried to just manual adjust.

The Scratch Game is properly adjusted now so you can win or lose but it's not a Byte factory anymore.

All this was my mistake. I take the responsibility for rushing yesterday and then not sticking around to make sure it was all 100%. I wanted to watch the NFL championship games and it cost me and Xerotic a day of work and member headaches. I'm sorry to everyone about that.

It did help us find a few oddball bugs though. Some good came from it.

I was expecting some Bytes to come into the economy. Maybe 1-2 million but nothing the 45-50 million that flooded it. That's just not going to work for us.

Bytes but since we reverted the Bytes you should ask them for a refund too. I had a Bovada.lv account (legit and all) that had $955 or so inside.

I was needing funds desperately for something (and Bovada makes it so you can only do one withdraw per 3 days - that gets approved/process from what I found out via FAQ) and so instead of waiting 3 more days since I withdrew last on Friday I wanted to sell and get some cash.

SuperPom offered 200k bytes, I don't keep up with things but then after deal he told me he got them via the thing. I was offered $100 few times for 100k but declined cause I needed way more than that but knew this morning a reset was bound to happen as I seen 100k being sold for $10.

I just didn't know how to go about it, since the deal he has secured the account and we've kept semi-in contact but he says hes still owed bytes and what not but didn't know if we should redo contract or if I should just get my account back (and hope that his withdraw hasn't processed/approved yet) lol

Shiiiiit, I myself sold some scratchers/bytes... guess I gotta hit up those people and give some rfs aye haha and try to get the money I spent on bytes back

Thanks for this I suppose

The fact I rarely hit 25k and never hit 50k or 100k while these crazy win odds were happening is why I won't play scratchers. If I didn't get it before I sure as shit won't get it now.

I've read that there is a Dice award for the slots and blackjack game, is it also obtainable through the scratch cards game?

And what are the current chances to win with scratching cards? I'm almost hitting my first 1k so i don't expect it to be worth the gamble to just buy 1 ticket but i'll probally buy some Bytes when the market is stable.

Is it not against the rules to make deals outside the marketplace? Obviously I was half joking as I included in my reply to his offer (which was directed at me aka he was trying to get me involved with something against the rules and warrant warning % on my account) a counter offer that no one with a functional left side of their brain would accept. But yeah... sales and deals are meant to be discussed in the marketplace, not the announcement subforum. However, I didn't even report the post cuz I was lazy and they don't exactly enforce that rule.

However, it was clearly a January and February conversation amongst myself and Blades of Glory, so you can MARCH your old ass outta here.

I used that winnings along with what I won on the scratch offs to buy a crew. but that was taken away as well =(. As it stands I lost $75 for the 10k bytes I purchased (at full price - discount for bulk) all the bytes I won even the ones form other games non lotto tickets, and My drunkard award which I had for over a month. I did get my feather back. I was hoping to at least keep crew since I did win enough from the jackpot on slots to buy it and still have some coin left over. Honestly I already messaged omni and I told him I would leave it all alone once he has made his decison so not like complaining will fix any of it. I know he has been working all day to resolve this. I am sure there are others who like me bought there bytes full price before they ever even played that game lol. He said we needed to made a deal dispute but in my case I bought it from a trusted guy on here with no contract so I am one of those idiots who just loses out on the money and bytes. Lesson learned though.

I wish I could have gotten some recognition lol but I won that at a really bad time haha. I broke two records I think maybe 3. I was first to win the 1 mill in bytes and was the first (I think) to win the 250 k jackpot on slots. And maybe I was the first to donate 1 mill coins. I know I was giving out tickets and coins a lot during my live stream. But then again if you think about it like this I could be a big reason this happened since a lot of people were winning because of the coins I gave away. Though I thought everything was supposed to be working that way lol I thought I was helping the site at the same time since this was something Omni had said he wanted us to do. Buy crews save bytes. Big things were on the way. I was doing what I thought he wanted us to do =) I just was not aware there was a flaw. He has it sorted out now though so all is well from here on out I hope.

Just wanted to give a shout out about how reBELLyus , who I bought my bytes from, had offered to give me his HF award Whore award in exchange for my $75 loss. He didnt have to do that as we didnt have a contract. I feel that is a great offer for him to make me as that award is valued over $200. I turned him down as I would not feel right about that and then he invited me to join his crew. So I might not have my own crew right now, I can at least get in his with a lifetime invite. Most people would be hard pressed to turn an offer like that down, and most people would be hard pressed to even offer something like that in the first place knowing its value.

Good on the both of you.
