Thread: \$120 profits from trading binary options and progress on Twitter CPA.

I can show screenshots of the cash out if anyone would like to see it.

I've been content locking with a free followers LP and a twitter niche I won't disclose but long story short it shouldn't be converting. So far $5 profit made this year. After messing with follow sources for 30 mins or so this morning, I just checked OGADs and made 67 cents today.

I plan on moving to Instagram and obviously using different LPs and niches because the one I'm using now isn't that profitable to maximize on.

I have 20 aged IGs and 10 IG proxies, I plan on making a nicer LP, maybe try multiple, making the accounts based on around 3 niches, using FL to mass follow and like, slowly moving the settings up over a week or so, and advertise my link in the bio.

Does anyone have any suggestions for not getting banned on these accounts? I've heard things like use one link per two accounts? Can that be a sub URL? Thanks!
