Thread: Fake Ebook Reviews / Vouches

Le Chiffre - January 25, 2019, 4:49 pm

How do certain ebook sellers (such as Trappy, Meow, Bezos and so) on in premium sellers section manage to get so many people with decent amount of posts and reps to vouch for their ebooks and leave fake reviews / purchase orders etc ?

Pyro - January 25, 2019, 6:12 pm

u should ask them lol. btw why do u think its fake ?

SUI-3183372 - January 25, 2019, 6:18 pm

They sit in discord groups and Skype groups and pm people when they need posts. Idk about these guys specifically but in the past I've seen others paying $0.50-$1.00 per vouch.

There has always been a group of users who are part of a larger circle which endorse each others products, keep it bumped, vouched, etc.

Ohh, so that explains why the guys who vouch and reply on these threads are also selling ebooks by themselves.

The lack of due diligence is responsible for newly registered users on this forum fall for these ebooks. Tbh it's kinda hard to determine whether the seller is charlatan, but one browse through the post history of his gives a lot of answers.

When I came back to HF about 2.5 years ago, I was immediately invited into a Skype group ran by Vyrez. and his buddies (two of them have been mentioned on this topic). It was obvious right away the entire purpose of the Skype group was to exchange reputation and solicit vouches/posts/bumps. It was filled with the people you'd expect, high rep lounge whores and marketplaces salesmen who have suspiciously high amounts of sales/vouches for their bullshit and non-working products/services/ebooks. I didn't last long, once I refused to post/vouch on Vyrez's sales threads I was swiftly removed. Someone would occasionally add me back into the group now and then and I'd be able to witness that it was generally still the same people doing the same shit, but I'd generally be removed within a few hours again. It was really just a group based on manipulating and taking advantage of the unsuspecting.

Thanks for sharing this! I suppose the only reason they are allowed to do this is because they pay to get their threads stickied and the forum benefits from them?

Just follow one simple rule - never buy any money making method from hackforums. That includes but not limited to: ebooks, private money making methods, mentoring, guides, etc.

Unless they allow you to pay AFTER you have used the method to make money.

Otherwise, they're what we call... ebook scemmers! I wouldn't mind if all ebook sellers were CLOSED! Like Vyrez. Cya @Trappy, @Bromden, @Meow, @Jamieeee... @Trappy @Trappy @trappy @trappy @trappy

If you follow that rule then these so called fake reviews and vouches are irrelevant to you.

Castro - January 26, 2019, 12:02 pm

HF is full of teenagers who don't really know what money is yet, they think earning 1k a month is life changing.

I'd hazard a guess that 90% of all 'money making methods' on here are;
dropshipping
ebay

matched betting

Where there are 99999999 free resources online for all this shit. Crazy.

A fool and his money are easily parted.

I agree with you and yes, I admit I'm an e-Book seller myself, but what people who never made money online seek is an idea. I think most e-Books on here are good to at least give an idea on how to make your first money online.

Someone who is not experienced might find eBay method fascinating because they've heard of it for the first time.

Of course we both find them saturated and public, but hopefully you understand my point.

Common misconception among people who claim e-Books are scam is thinking you can just copy-paste method that has been shown to you. That's not how it works and if you'll just copy-paste something that 100-200 other buyers did, then of course you won't make any money.

Moxas - January 26, 2019, 12:17 pm

Yes %99 percent of ebooks in this forum is shit. They are using common known informations as their invention.

McDolands - January 26, 2019, 12:23 pm

Mate vyrez used to run the biggest fuckin circle jerk of bump buddies using one another for a bump. You could literally open the group chat at anytime and see 20 people posting "b4b" meaning bump for bump cause their shitty products couldn't get any vouches or reviews otherwise. The sad part is I was a part of it for a short time and I'm not even going to lie. It's stupid how easy it is to sell bullshit to people to make an actual decent profit for quite some time.

Maybe I should not be posting in these places a person like me but I think I can raise my opinion on this.

You are absolutely right in that, I can not deny it. But I speak in my case, I'm not a teenager. I am already my age and my family formed, and believe me, it makes me very happy to generate $ 1,000 per month since it is a fairly high income for the country where I live.

Which many ebooks promise. I have something against because, although they say they are very easy and that even children of 10 years can, because I still can not achieve much, but I know that 90% of this is my fault for being a dinosaur in this world.

I do not consider it a shit. They give you a clear and simple, well-written and detailed idea of how to generate income. Based on their experience and if they believe that it is worth so much money and people buy it, who are we to say that it is not viable? My person does not buy them because I am a poor person who does not have $ 1 hahaha.

I respect everyone's opinion. But I share it with the majority. I have shared conversations with characters mentioned above and I have found them friendly, kind and intelligent people. What do they take advantage of the new ones? Opinions may vary but they expose their point of view for some things that people like me, favor them more than.

Sorry to put me where those who really have experience speak.

Greetings and success to all.

It's worth buying in my personal opinion, the price is cheap ($25) and it really isn't hard to earn your cash back and get into profits.

My review was honest and i see people making decent cash with this on a daily base myself so i know that it works very well.

By the way, I'll go around and purchase the ebooks from premium sellers sections, I'll leave honest and unbiased reviews for each one of them, whether it's positive or negative one. Will be leaving the reviews on this thread.

I'm telling you right now it's a waste of time lol.

The type of customers ebook sellers get are usually new users. They don't come to Marketplace Discussions to look for reviews lol. Most of the people in this thread know not to buy an ebook. You're not the first person and you won't be the last to try and "expose" these sellers lmao. They're still going to make money regardless of a bad review or not.

Purchased this ebook and also tried the actual method. I'll leave an unbiased review below.

The method is pretty easy to follow and the author explains how to dropship (or resell, although dropship more practical and more profitable) a certain product that you'll get for a lot lower price and thus get a solid profit.

First thing you have to do is list the product on sites such as eBay and wait for customers. Now that we have a customer, we need to send him the product.

The product can be purchased (with the money we just got from our customer) on the third party forum that I'll not disclose here, the link is in the ebook. There are at least 5 users there selling the product, although not all of them are trusted and a dose of risk is always involved even with the trusted ones. Now that we found a seller and paid him, we simply give him the address of our customer and he sends the product (this can take up to 2 days, so keep that in mind).

A dose of risk is also involved in this method, you can end up losing cash should the seller scam you, although HIGHLY UNLIKELY.

Profit depends on your effort and where you'll be selling the product, 200$/day (as stated in thread) is a too ambitious, though feasible, but VERY HARD without great marketing skills and advertising, especially for beginners.

Also, I don't see this method working for so long, as the seller we're getting the product from is obtaining it by scam, it's matter of time before the company takes the measures to prevent this, the sellers have been doing this for over 2 years now though.

The price of ebook could definitely be lower, I'm thinking of 20$ as the method itself ain't that of original.

Conclusion : If you're okay with dropshipping and reselling, patient and willing to invest some time in this, you can definitely profit.

mvmt - January 28, 2019, 4:29 pm

I think the bigger problem here is stupid consumers, not the sellers themselves. If you think you can make hundreds of dollars per day with 5 minutes of work, then you're going to have a very rude awakening.

There are shitty/manipulative products in every market on earth, focus less on trying to bring them down (pointless negativity) and focus more on educating buyers. The people who waste their time shitting on ebooks are usually the same broke boys that are buying them buyerfortsk - February 5, 2019, 7:02 pm

I bought 2 ebook here, one for 100$, one other for 65$, one for 20$

The first method (100$) was simply " Buy and sell instagram account" worst ebook i've ever bought on my life, not even worth 1$, a complete garbage

Vouches were probably fake

BTW I tested the method to see if it work , I really struggle to get any customers, I posted instagram for sale on popular forum (even on HF) and nobody bought anything, I dropped the method within 5 days

The second was (65$) " Buy game at a cheap and resell it " , this kind of method is known, but I tested it and it worked, I made about 30-40$ before stop

The third method (20$): " Sell Bitcoin for paypal " , Made about 200$ per day, get chargebacked by a customers and lost all my profit and even got a negative balance on paypal

I built my own method and i'm currently making about 250-300 $ per day !

The best method that will bring a lot of money can be only created by YOU !

Don't buy any garbage here, they are all scam

100% of ebook here = scam , scam , scam

Certain dude with a Greek name is easily influenced by money, rep, or friendship. Don't trust vouches here, most people here flock together and blindly vouch for eachother. Even our so called non-biased reviewers are biased as shit and won't do anything that may offend someone they like or get them -repped. People here care far too much about their status on this site and their reputation(fortunately this is fading), and until that changes, assume all reviews and vouches are from biased pieces of shit who intend on misleading you into making a purchase.

Do you personally have something against me? <https://hackforums.net/trustscan.php?uid=4116569>
<https://hackforums.net/trustscan.php?uid=1929404> Here are 2 people who have premium sellers stickies and look at their trust scans. You can access H.F through a vpn and your trust scan will look all messed up. You're linking a deal dispute from 2017 i don't even remember it because it was so long ago. I would be more than happy to refund him through btc if he wants. When did vyrez vouch on my thread? Was it a long time ago? Most likely was a long time ago. All you're doing is bringing stuff up from a long time ago.

No I actually didn't know who you were until this thread bro, don't know why you're getting so defensive.. I just call it how I see it.

And actually I can show you where he vouched on your thread. ?

Here: Spoiler (Click to View)

Also, those other members trust scan you linked has nothing to do with you man so I'm not sure why you did that.

But on your account, which is a fairly "large" account or "built up" I suppose you could say, why don't you have 2fa enabled?

Also I understand that matching IP's can happen from time to time due to mobile use, however when it comes up as not matching to the same country, that's what's odd about it.

Also yes, I'm sure that member would love to be refunded seeing the last post on that thread was from him: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5635841&pid=55738367#pid55738367>

Hope to see it resolved.

I know this isn't directed at me, but at this point in time, after years and years of abuse from ebook vendors, I think most of us are just naturally skeptical of ebook vendors and, with good reason (I believe), jump to conclusions when we see something suspicious arise. I have never interacted with you, I don't know you, you could be my really cool cousin that I don't talk to enough anymore. However, I already hate you simply because of the business you're in. I'm not going to go out of my way to attack you or try to ruin your sales, however I will always assume the worst of you and assume that you're deceiving or ripping off members one way or another, even if that's not true.

Is my approach flawed? Definitely. But I found it's what allows me to stay the happiest when dealing with the marketplace here.

100% get where you're coming from and i respect it. On a side note a while back i read your jail thread and went back to the old thread of everything that went down with blackshades and spent hours reading through everything (the guy keeping all chat logs/your time in jail/etc. 10/10 would read again. You're a wild man?

Found another obvious guy that does it, he's been nice to me so I won't say who it is buttttt-
He sells multiple products, and there is 1 account that has coincidentally bought (and positively reviewed) every single one. Said account has also not been on HF since posting its latest review

Something definitely needs to be done
