Thread: Gday Mates! Intro to TNA

GR305 - January 26, 2019, 2:09 pm

What's up guys, Gabriel here. Just wanted to introduce myself and kind of go into some detail on some of the things I may be offering in the future and things I'm knowledgeable in.

I currently run the YouTube channel 'TheNeuroticAlpha' where I offer advice to other men who come from similar backgrounds to myself. Whether that be entrepreneurial ventures, dating/relationship assistance, overcoming your own insecurities, etc...

I'm a self-development junkie. My personality type in regards to the Myers Briggs Type/Carl Jung's work is the ENTP so I obsess over the big picture and love helping others gain some clarity on what it is they wish to achieve. I've always loved gaming and actually began my (less than white hat) entrepreneurial journey in Runescape (the good ol' Phishing days).

Slowly migrated towards keylogging/RAT's and after I became 'legal' I decided to drop the black hat stuff as I'm way too good looking to go to prison ;)

Now I currently own an eCommerce store and have a good amount of knowledge in accounting, marketing, and business management. My passion is psychology but I've taken a less than traditional approach to gaining knowledge and wisdom. I'm a 23 year old so I'm not claiming to know more than anyone else here. Being an ENTP I'm always open to learn as much as I can and the majority of the things I know are self-taught.

If any of you guys are interested in talking, or just want to watch my videos feel free. I try to offer as much value and my YouTube channel is a passion project where I try to capture my thoughts and organize myself while practicing my videography/video editing skills (still a newbie in this area but growing daily). I also have a link to my website in the links in my description of my videos for you guys to book coaching sessions (currently free as my audience isn't quite large enough to make any income off that and my main focus is my Ecom store). G'day ladies! Hope you guys have a great weekend!

Welcome to Hackforums Gabriel.

That's a long introduction.

Don't forget to read the Help Docs.

Thank you, sir ?

I'm all about offering value so I figured I'd say what I'm decent at in case anyone wants help with anything related to the areas of my obsessions ?

I may just pick up that Facebook ads course you're offering even if I can't get the vouch copy :P
I'm quite well versed on Facebook ads but I may learn something useful in there.
