You can install your own smtp server on your machine, so you just have to pay the software.

Hi OP, can this software handle 500k mails at ones without lagging or freezing the program in the process like most mailers or programs does?

Or what is the max emails that can be sent at ones with this software without giving any of the above issues listed.

Next version will support a list of smtp server and many thread to send the email's to make this kind of request more faster. I will test this today with the actual version and i send you a reply to answer your question.

EDIT : With a private smtp server no reason that it does not work, my test shows that it works even with a large number of recipients.

For the moment you can send a maximum of 100.000 email's to one recipient.

Exceptionally if you encounter a problem and proves it i can refund you.

no bro my question is if tool have integrated option random id and random change name pc when send you know if you send via smtp way and send from a pc inside source body mail you see id and name pc who sent the e-mail then if tool no have I think it should add because it is very useful and prevents mail from going into spam or being blocked ok bro thanks hope you add is very useful funcion another littel question is possible add funcion for change random metadata inside pic like png jpg etc ?? esample i like attach pic inside mi message then when i uploads inside program automatically every time send pic first change metadata always random inside pic and after send message this funcion is very usefull because all service email have filter antispam for pic and this filter to block messages or send them in spam read the metadata in the images so if the metadata is always the same for the same image sooner or later they mark the message as spam let me know if you can add it so as to make the program a little more efficient and hq have a good day ?

Inbox depends of email quality, you have a tool inside the software to check this. It also work with free smtp like google or yahoo according to there limits. ?
