Thread: Additional Security bug?

FBI - January 30, 2019, 8:40 am

On my laptop and desktop when I visit the site it hits the additional security page, but after 5 seconds instead of redirecting to the thread I clicked on it just refreshes the additional security page but changes the CF Ray ID. If I clear my cache/cookies it fixes it but seems to get stuck in this loop about once a week.

If someone could look into this please.

This happens to me also, I don't think it's anything to worry about.

Yea but it's pretty annoying if I make a thread, hit post and it happens. I'll have to copy the whole thread, log out and login to post it.

Odd, I've never had to relog when this happens I just wait the 5 seconds and it puts me back to the page where I tried going to. Hmm.

You have to wait. Be patient. Not really a bug we control as it's just how Cloudflare works.
