Thread: Scammer RAGNAR, uid 1610871 scammed for 150\$

nReo - January 30, 2019, 11:31 am

Hello all,

You can warn me for not having contract but I still make it public.

Here is his thread: hack forums.net/showthread.php?tid=5689600

I saw today user RAGNAR thread that he buys AGC at 80%. So I sent him PM, asking his contact details to make deal. He then sent me PM with his discord:

gy azo.com/fc3f31d2e3d00362e53771ebed1e88f3

So I added him and few hours later he contacted me via Discord, proof here:

gy azo.com/38adf9dece0906ed1ce6e84197b3be99

We accepted on 75% and I gave him codes:

gy azo.com/b3a6029a2cea5468fc77b9ebbc1a0dcb

After that no response from Discord and few minutes later he suddenly sent me PM that he is not at Discord and little bit later he claims his Discord is hacked and not able to log in for few weeks already. My codes worked and this is provable with redeeming emails I got.

His discord which he sent me is here. Isnt it fishy if its hacked already few weeks ago he still gives it to me without any notification?

gy azo.com/863fe916713889e0664f959b4bfcd03f

(Please fix links, as I am too newbie yet to post links)

I will keep this posted until this scammer gets removed from this. I dont wait to get my money back, but this thief must get removed from community.

In your prints you didnt prove that the guy you were talking it's Ragnar.

Just right click and press profile.

It will show the user number #XXXX.

If it's the same , we can all agree this is a scam! GL OP

PerfectStorm - January 30, 2019, 1:06 pm

Well since you don't have a contract why not just make a community alert?

Why not just post the ones with the PM's that he sent you the reply to PM with the discord ? I've seen it all.

nReo is working hard and providing various accounts for many people around here. He is also a good seller in Bitcointalk forum... and as I know him for a long time now, he would not lie.

nReo - January 30, 2019, 1:49 pm

Sad that moderators does not give a shit about it because he is some trusted member. Clearly he was the scammer here with proofs uploaded already. I hope he enjoys this shitty 150$.

The moderators will 'give a shit' if you adhere to the site guidelines and use the contract system.
It's literally pinned to the top of this subforum: [\[Rule\] No Contract = No Dispute](#)

Really one contract is that important and thief can run away because of it? I am new member, did not even know the contract system here. I was looking for his rank and his posts and history which was trustable enough. Sorry for bad language, I am just upset.

Before start talking trash, actually start reading more rules and help documents when u joined forum, would help a lot, but people are just lazy and then they cry after they get scammed

So you are defending the scammer here, because I did not have "contract", even if the scam is clearly proven? Its silliest thing i have seen online, lul. :)

Nope, I'm pointing the fact that he scammed u cause u are obviously dumb as fuck and too lazy to read Help Documents

Also, if u searched his UID u could see he has thousands scam reports

https://hackforums.net/disputedb.php?action=do_ddsearch&userid=1610871

But u are just too dumb and now u blame forum and members cause of your own stupidity.

It's not about Pyro defending at all, you never took the time to look through the forum, you were too busy trying to sell/exchange way too fast. Fair enough you didn't have a contract however like Pyro has just stated you could of easily looked through the Deal Dispute Database and his reports would of came up. Sorry for your loss OP but you've got to take the time and effort to actually read and do research on the guy you are dealing with.

I accept the loss, but why does this superuser have not been removed from forum so he can just keep scamming the people? For sure, he should be removed from here.

Hey .. I used contract last time and I also read rules. Using a contract will not make sure at all that you won't get scammed.

You sound like if using a contract there is no chance to be scammed, but that's not the truth.

The truth is that a member with higher reputation here and many threads open is just scamming someone and thinks he can get away with it, because the user is a newbie and did not use a contract.

Meow - January 30, 2019, 10:44 pm

Aside from not having a contract, you should've definitely checked his UID.

Good luck resolving this.

Ofc using a contract won't prevent scam, nothing can prevent potential high reputable member to go on a scamming spree. Contracts are only used to spot scammer easier. Also there is Search function where u can type user UID and check if he has any threads opened against him. Not to mention u can check his UID in Deal Dispute base. And upgraded members have trust scan also, which helps a lot when using marketplace

JamesHarden - January 30, 2019, 10:58 pm

i agree with op. who cares if no contract. yes should been used one but doesnt change the fact he got scammed and would of been scammed using one anyway as can tell the user in question scams often.

contracts will never solve or slow down scamming here. pretty sad when u look at overall amount of users here and the number of scams. then you compare to other sites with 3x the userbase and dont see as many reports as here. this site will always have an issue until scammers are held accountable with scamming as in losing their account. you take other sites for example. you get 24hrs to resolve the report or YOUR ACCOUNT IS CLOSED. there for some reason is a HUGE grey area here with scamming with a 50/50 chance you get banned. looks like admin just flips a coin to decide if he wants to close a user for scamming.

nReo - January 30, 2019, 11:37 pm

Me as OP do not understand either why this account is still open if the scam was clearly proven, even if there were not contract. I am sorry for my incompetent words yesterday while I was overheating because of this scammer and I apologize for that.

Now, when I do research what I've should done before, I see there are lot of reports of this scammer and moderators / admins do not do anything, but letting him to keep scam. What is that reason? Why his account does not get blocked or banned? What's the reason for that?

I do not want to blame anybody, but I would like to hear the reasons for that and not these comments of "you are dumb ass fuck idiot". It was my mistake and I accept the loss, but why he is still in this community after so many scams?

I will keep posting this thread to everywhere he posts, to every his thread which is active to warn others being scammed. If moderators do not do anything, I will just ruin his "honest business" here by myself.

Thanks for reading,
nReo

Are you retarded?

Do you actually read what people are replying to you? If you don't have contract, no action will be taken against Ragnar - just fucking deal with it and next time open a contract and you won't get scammed so easily.

If you keep on ranting about why admins haven't banned him yet, I'm sure you're the one who will get banned...

You are the retard here, who the fuck cares about contract if scam was prooven? Thats why this is full of scammers, its bullshit system and trusted high ranked members using that system vs newbies to make money. Scammers. Go fuck yourself, thanks.

U haven't researched well, cause if u did that, u would see that STAFF IS NOT GETTING INVOLVED INTO DEAL DISPUTES, ESPECIALLY WITHOUT CONTRACT. Fucking retard, i don't feel sorry for ya at all, 10 minutes of reading would prevent this, but u are too dumb/lazy to realize that
