Thread: A similar anime to Overlord, Berserk, Kill la Kill, or Akame ga Kill? jcarlos17 - January 31, 2019, 9:15 am

I usually like to watch animes that are "intense" like the examples in the title.

I mean, these animes are interesting from the first seconds, and you don't get bored.

Can you suggest me similar animes to these?

Eh. I couldn't stand Kill La Kill when I started watching it so I quit midway. Berserk is on a different league. You can pretty much look up top animes in here: <https://myanimelist.net/topanime.php>

Or you can look up anime you liked on the same website and see other recommended anime based on your pick :)

Example: https://myanimelist.net/anime/18679/Kill_la_Kill KLK was very strange at the beginning. But I decided to watch it because it was very particular.

Thank you for the suggestion about using MAL.

I only used to visit that site to look for info about some talented seiyuus.

Maybe shows like Psycho Pass (Season 1 only) and Darker Than Black(Season 1 only), and Gantz might interest you. I have similar interests as yours from the looks of it so these shows might be good.
