Wolfpack Recruitment

We are starting fresh with Wolfpack, and the memberlist has been wiped clean. To apply, simply let us know why you want to join. If you were in the group before, just reapply here. You will most likely make it back in.

?rescent - February 2, 2019, 2:23 pm

Hey, I was in the group before and I would like to re-apply.

I would like to apply and be able to join the group, so I can have a place to socialize and talk to others without people coming in and trashing the threads. Wolfpack was good for that because we could have a nice conversation and enjoy talking to one another without interruption. Wolfpack would also be a joy to be in also because of all the people in it, as a community of itself it is always nice to be around other like-minded individuals.

Vegeta Blue - February 2, 2019, 2:48 pm

Hey!

This is my Wolf Pack Application.

Why should you be in Wolf Pack?

I would like to be a part of a tight knight group/community that I can trust when it comes to forming new friendships here on HF.

I believe I'm an asset when it comes to being a part of a group because I can provide helpful insight and information in topics I'm skilled in and also hopefully get help in topics I'm not so skilled in. Also hoping to find a few people to party up with in gaming! Consoles (PC, Ps4).

Hopefully you consider me as a candidate to join WolfPack. Looking forward to hearing back!

Aeowulf - February 2, 2019, 2:57 pm

Been here since 2012, haven't been part of a group. I don't talk nonsense, but love good conversation. Love the name and concept of a Wolfpack. Would be cool to experience a group here.

Pray - February 2, 2019, 3:06 pm

Hello, I'd like to re-apply and join the Wolfpack because I thought the community was very high quality and felt very much like a family. The discord, lounge, and discussions were all very active and friendly and being a part of something like that is a one of a kind experience here on HF. It was fun when I was there and made my experience on here much better, so I'd love the change to be a part of it again,.

We had some good laughs and some good conversations and it was an interesting group to be apart of. I would also like to join again as I would love to see the group grow again and become an even better group than it already was.

.Elysium's. Wolfpack Application

What are your intentions within the group?

I feel that groups are a tighter knit group of people and I enjoy socializing with a more common group. I also enjoy sharing information among people who I know have a common interest. This isn't something that is exclusive to groups however I know that the activity in groups is more focused and centric so people are more receptive to reading and sharing ideas. I would like to join the group so that I can develop longer lasting friendships and also so that I can contribute to any emerging concepts the the group may have planned.

Do you see yourself as a helpful member willing to give helpful knowledge to members?

I enjoy meaningful discussions where I can learn from others however I also enjoy giving back to the community, helping others, and teaching whenever I can. I always keep a line open for members who have questions or who are trying to learn. I always try my best to be helpful and share knowledge on any topic that I am knowledgeable in.

Do you have time to dedicate yourself to posts and taking part in activities?

I have maintained my activity both within the forum as well as within the private groups that I have been a part of since rejoining HackForums. I intend to maintain my activity and quite possibly devote more time to being active and contributing, especially with the upcoming features with the release of "The Game". I always commit myself to taking part in group activities and ensure that I contribute in any activity that I can.

Would you be able to complete assigned tasks on time?

I consider myself to be a very proactive person as well as somebody who can manage their time effectively. I have a stellar track record with completing assigned tasks in a timely manner. In the event that I encounter something that I am not familiar with I have always been devoted to contacting people who I know are experienced in the subject or researching to learn more on a certain subject. I am confident that I would be able to complete any assigned task with a reasonable deadline.

Stage 2 Recruitment:

Quote:For stage 2, you will be assigned a certain topic to cover. You should aim to write a few paragraphs on the said topic as if you were writing your own thread within the group. You should add as much as possible and remember not to rush this. Take your time, and try to add as much information as possible.

Things to keep in mind:

try not to be biased and don't go off topic.

Keep the idea on track.

And do not miss the point.

Your selected topic to cover is "Easy ways to make money"

After you have sent me your reply, I will aim to test and act as if the situation was in a real discussion thread.

Goodluck!

.Elysium. Wrote:Easy Ways to Make Money by .Elysium.

There are many opportunities for someone to earn money legally as opposed to opting for illegal or blackhat methods, some of which may very easily land you in hot watters or even worse, facing the repercussions of the legal systems and finding yourself in a position where you are forced to repay all of the money earned on top of fees, fines, and court proceedings. Today I am going to discuss the the qualities and attributes required to be successful in making money, and some easy ways to make money.

Nearly every self made millionaire has demonstrated independent thinking. The same attribute has been seen in many of HackForums top-earners. The time and energy that the standard user spends looking for a "quick-fix" or a buy-in to a 'thousand dollar a month' group could be spent brainstorming, or forging your own path. Instead of spending your time conforming to what many people advertise for their own personal gain, the time could be spent developing your own methods. The time could be spent researching or learning more on a specific subject. Since thoughts ultimately lead to actions, you need to develop the mindset that will get you to your end goal. You need to envision your own future.

Vision is a powerful source of motivation but in and of it self will not always lead to success. You have to believe that you will be successful and continue to develop yourself once you have attained success. As Bill Gates says, "Life has a tendency to just happen. But it happens because we make choices. The life you create and design for yourself is going to accumulate from the choices you make over time. Sure, there are unexpected things that can derail dreams. But we can control where we put our focus, and if we choose to put one dream ahead of another."

So now that we have discussed the qualities required to make money, what does this boil down to? How can we actually make money? Here I will break it down in to 3 separate categories, easy, fast, and creative.

Needless to say, there is no instant method to make money. Everything requires either time, patience, or effort. However in this category there are some very easy methods to make money. These are things that you can do while watching a movie or just lounging around the house:

1. Take Paid Surveys

-SurveyMonkey

-Swagbucks

-Vindale Research

2. Website and App Reviewing

-UserTesting

- The next category may require some effort, but can often times be the fastest way of making sizeable amounts of money. In fact, this is my personal favorite. I have used online market trading to make incredible amounts of money in the past. For example, look at the company Vericel(VCEL) on November 5-6th, where stock prices went from $11.50 to $16.60 in a matter of minutes:

1. Stock Market trading

-Etrade

-TD Ameritrade

-Fidelity

2. Crypto Trading

-Coinbase Pro

-Bittrex

-Binance

The final category will require some time, effort, and creative thinking however can often times be the most legitimate methods of earning money legitimately and risk free:

1. Business boosting (Contacting local businesses. Often times, small businesses are the most interested in these services)

-Offer boosting of social media followers (This can even be done by using one of the many boosting services offered on HackForums)

-Facebook, Yelp, Instagram

-New business logos

-Website design or renovation

2. Become a paid driver

-Lyft (Earn an additional $300 for signing up <https://www.lyft.com/drive-with-lyft?ref=EXTRA300>)

-Uber

3. Get paid to deliver food

-UberEats

-GrubHub

-Doordash

As you know when I joined Wolfpack I hated it, so I left ASAP. If you say it's going different, I'd love to take a shot at applying just too see whats up. Plus if Business takes charge, I see this group running amazing.

Power - February 2, 2019, 10:01 pm

I would like to apply, for starters because I haven't joined any groups since I joined except L33t and Ub3r if they count, of course. I love people and am a huge tech guy. I just bought a new $2,000 laptop last week and am definitely planning on continuing to be active and hopefully post more threads/posts. I'm also a big gambler when it comes down to it and have somewhere around ~$70,000 in wagers(gains and losses). I love to console game as well and I play Xbox and PS4 quite a lot. Anyways, if you need to know more about me let me know. I'd be down to share more info if needed.

Pikachu - February 2, 2019, 11:07 pm

I would love a re-invitation in to the group. I enjoyed reading all the great threads, most of which were great fun. This is one of the few groups that was actually quite entertaining, had me laughing at some of the funny conversations i would come across. There was just too many fun moments in the pack.

I would like to join.

I am support for many products here on HackForums.

I'm very active on here and online most of the day as I work from home!

I also love to help people and learn new things.

I've meet many people on here and became good friends with several.

I think being part of an official HackForums group would be a great way to meet people, help other members and definitely learn some new things

:I Love Tacos:

SoulZeh - February 3, 2019, 12:02 pm

I believe I should be a part of the Wolfpack due to I think of everyone in a group, I enjoy meeting new people and I would say I'm a pretty chill guy, I try and keep everything fun and games.

I'm not really good about speaking about myself, I just generally like making new friends, and to be honest the userbar is pretty sexy. Hope you love me enough. ?

i would like to join because i always give you music

Meterpreter - February 3, 2019, 5:08 pm

I just want somewhere private to share opinions and chat free from low quality posts and users.

HF is an awesome community, but sometimes I just wish I could converse with solely high quality members.

I am not really someone with extreme knowledge in a single area, but I can say I have a wide variety of knowledge across many different topics. In saying that I enjoy everything from technology, to human neuropsychology and am interested in 99.9% of all topics.

I also understand that the people within your group jointly represent the group as a whole, so appearance is crucial. I never shit post. I never flame. I don't casually insult people. I enjoy positive discourse. I enjoy respectful debating. I'm just not a shitty person....

Some personal details so you can know me. I am a 22 male from Australia, studying Psychology. I have a Diploma in IT Networking which is predominantly Cisco based, with some Javascript and PHP knowledge. My psychology studies are mainly focused on neuropsychology, neuropharmacology, human development, and social work. Politically, I am probably more left leaning, but frequently side with both sides, really depends if feelings outweigh logic in the situation. Also probably the least biased person on the planet.... I dunno why. Never really used to be, became a conscious effort to critique my own biases a few years ago, and now I am just... not bias...

Pledge - February 10, 2019, 4:10 pm

Hello fellow Wolves, ?

My name on the web is Chemical X or you can call me Pledge. I am in my late 20's and I reside in North America. I would like to join the Wolfpack as I am aware of the well earned reputation of this long standing group, I am an old member on this site that is newly active in posting and spending more time since they recently cleaned up Hack Forums. I am looking for a group (or groups) to socialize with I am very interested in learning new things, and sharing whatever knowledge I have picked up over the years.

My many interests and strong social skills on the web allow me to hold interesting conversations on unique topics. A few of my favorite topics include Hacking as a whole, Cryptocurrency, Coding, Mobile Devices/ Tablets, Building and repairing computers, Gaming on Xbox and I am now trying out PC gaming like League of Legends and CSGO.

Last year I spent a considerable amount of time learning Technical Analysis. This Year, I will be spending most of my time online learning Coding/Programming in Python/Javascript/C++ although I'm not sure where I would like to start, so if anyone is interested, I could use some mentoring or just a few pointers here and there.

Thank you for taking your time to read through my application, Your decision is important to me, I will respect whatever you decide.

I want to join Wolfpack as I truly miss that group vibe. I have previously been a member of The Empire, Respawn, Phoenix, The Brotherhood and a few others but the one that sticks out for me is being OG 143. They were the days and that was the tightest group I have seen on HF. I just miss the comradery of it all.

IParkerl - February 10, 2019, 8:48 pm

Looking to join one of the more elite groups on HF. I find that the wolfpack is one of the most HQ groups and with that being said I think there is a thing or two I could learn from you all. Who knows you may learn somethings from me. We will see.

I'd like to be a part of the Wolfpack, I'm not sure exactly what the group is about or if I even meet the requirements but I have never been in a group so I'll give it a shot.

A little about myself, I am 19 years old recently graduated high school and now I'm a full-time student in college. I hope to become a software engineer one day and work with a large company like microsoft or google to develop and maintain software. So far I'm experienced in front-end web development as well as back-end (Connecting various API's together mainly video game related API's). I try to prioritize my time best as I can but I also play video games, listen to music a lot and browse hf ?

Mix - February 17, 2019, 10:43 am

Hello, So I haven't been in this group before. But I have heard good things of it and would love to become part of it.

I want to find an active community/group that isnt just a group for a userbar, but a group for people to connect and help each other out in any ways/means possible, I believe I can help insight the group with knowledge from various skills and hobbies, tips and tricks you name it. Then later down the line I may be even able to learn a thing or two from the members of the group who know?

The Social Engineer - February 17, 2019, 2:21 pm

I wish to officially apply to the group.

Previously I had been added to the group, however as I had not received any notification of acceptance to the group, it ultimately led to my having missed trappy's culling thread before it had closed.

My reasons for applying:

Wolfpack seems like a decent group, with plenty of supportive members. I enjoy teaching and mentoring as much as I enjoy learning and feel that the Wolfpack group would provide plenty of opportunities for both. I am quite active on HF when not busy with family or work, and enjoy participating in events, projects, and (non-toxic) discussions.

I thank you for your consideration.

This acct being so new I'm not sure if I'm even able to apply but, I'd like to join to have a group of people to always lean on. A group of people that really do have each others back. HF was my home back in 2012-2013. All the people and groups (can't remember the name of the group I was in but it was all based on the SRPP section) were my escape and personal solace. I see you too come from that era since you're rocking an infamous group. But anyway, basically I'd like to have a close of friends to really on like back in that time.
