A little about myself -

I'm a avid chatter, I enjoy holding and having lengthy conversations whatever the subject may be. I used to be a huge gamer but I gave that up for career advancements. However, I do own a Oculus GO and enjoy putting that thing on whenever time permits. I would consider myself a nice, helpful guy and enjoy giving others advice whatever the subject may be. I'm creative, I have an idea of opening a HF application on the GO where we all can meet anonymously and chat and play games like Cards Against Humanity. I'm in the age bracket of 26-29 but I prefer not to say.

Anyway, thank you for taking the time to read this post. I hope you have a splendid day and go Patriots!

I know my account stats aren't the most glamorous or an upgraded member. Would love some kind of response though, thanks.
