Thread: Is it me or is some of this forum toxic?

GR305 - February 3, 2019, 8:10 pm

I'm fairly new to Hackforums and I came on here because I saw a living ecosystem of individuals who are business-oriented. After cruising for a few weeks I've noticed that a lot of you guys are actually really cool but there are some who are just so incredibly toxic. Seems like mental illness is rampant among some hackers maybe? 0.o

Just curious your opinions or if I've simply been over-analyzing.

SoulZeh - February 3, 2019, 8:12 pm

You think this is bad? you should of been here years ago when it was literally filled with toxic people.

I can admit I was very toxic back then, but I think it's calmed down SO much compared to back then.

See OP, just like php, this guy is always like this.. He was dropped or something at birth, but he's funny sometimes.

Prophett - February 3, 2019, 8:16 pm

It was more toxic when the forum was active. Now that it has died down, so has the toxicity.

IBotnet - February 3, 2019, 8:16 pm

I think the whole world is filled with toxic people.

Just stay positive and reflect positivity towards others.

PerfectStorm - February 3, 2019, 8:17 pm

If its soo toxic then why don't you leave? No I don't think it is.

Trappy - February 3, 2019, 8:21 pm

It's not that toxic, maybe because you're unupgraded it feels that way.

Cocaine - February 3, 2019, 8:22 pm

It's not so bad here, I like it :)

I honestly don't have a problem with that at all except a lot of times these kids with really dark humor are actually incredibly depressed. This depression can get pretty dark to the point of self-harm or fucking people actually doing some pretty bad things they end up regretting (think schools being torn apart because of certain incidents...).

P.s. I really don't give a shit about dark humor as long as you're not dying to hurt other people and are secretly "crying out for help".

I'm a psychology fanatic so I'll stop before I get too into my own theories LOL

(Feb 3, 2019 09:21 PM)Trappy Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) It's not that toxic, maybe because you're unupgraded it feels that way.

That thought did cross my mind and I'm realizing how much the "Upgraded People" hierarchy plays a role on this forum haha. Pissed I didn't catch that before. I can't wait to upgrade but most of my money is in my business bank account so I can't really touch it for HF.

SORRIE - February 3, 2019, 8:27 pm

It's because you're new, no offense but your account just looks like a multi. New members who aren't upgraded just have an overall bad reputation here, especially without pictures and a post count of less than 100. I'm not saying anything you're doing is wrong but as you post more, upgrade and get to know more people the vibe of the forum changes. But yes as a new member I remember feeling the same way about it

SIM-3257834 - February 3, 2019, 8:29 pm

It's only toxic because of males.

GiraffeBear - February 3, 2019, 8:30 pm

If this is a troll question, SMFD ;)

If not trolling, I think everyone could benefit from psychotherapy (mind you they'll always find something wrong but just because they find something wrong for everyone doesn't mean you shouldn't go).

I went to a psychotherapist and I discovered I had actually been sexually abused as a kid and that went a long way with healing myself mentally and becoming ok with my own weird idiosyncratic behaviors. I'm a weird ass dude and I'm cool with it now

Uhh... I remembered? Lol. The unconscious part of our minds is something we don't really understand. It sort of blocked my childhood from memory so that I wouldn't be able to remember. Eventually, through some psilocybin mushrooms, I remembered most of it and told my mom and therapist about it. I cried like hell but after crying about it I felt amazing and was back to normal. (Not trolling btw). I'd rather not get into specifics of the actual abuse for personal reasons :)

For example this "php" guy is very rude and wanted to sue me for no reason.

I think he's gay and is just hiding behind the girls touching boobs picture.

Theres always going to be these type of people that you encounter. Don't let that fact play on your experience, just let them stew in their own filth.

SIM-1349466 - February 4, 2019, 3:23 am

Any forum on the internet has toxic behavior. The reason it may be a little more noticeable here is - for the most part, each section has about the same people posting over and over in an odd and specific fashion. It would be difficult to go a week without seeing at least 2 posts from me in the lounge or graphics as those are the only 2 places I really check.

The forum is 10x less toxic than it used to be in 2014, and some people will say that was the best part of it

Careful now

I will personally break your mail box.

I think some individuals are toxic around here but the forum itself isnt toxic.

I learned so much stuff back in my days around here.

Are you sure you would like to go down this road? (no pun intended)

I'll gladly go down your road. Hell, I'll go right up your front path and break your door knocker off your door. Or doorbell, depending on what you own.

Ha, jokes on you, no ant can touch me because they cant stand salt, and I am surrounded in salt from pools of tears I cry out daily. Try again SON.

I can admit I was very toxic back then, but I think it's calmed down SO much compared to back then.

2K10-14 was insane.

Every thread would be filled with flamers. It was back when the term trolling was kind of new so everyone thought it was cool.

Users would literally post bullshit on every thread they saw, trying to get on your nerves.

The boards has raised the general post quality since so yeah. I agree, OP should have been here back then.

I do feel that the community now is way more friendly compared to last time.

Pow3r - February 6, 2019, 7:29 am

Welcome to the internet OP. May I take your fedora?

Omar - February 6, 2019, 8:02 am

There are some toxic people, you are very right about that... but they usually get banned so yeah lol. They don't stay for long.

Alles auf Rot - February 6, 2019, 10:31 am

Just dont take everything so serious thats being said here lmao

Bossk - February 6, 2019, 11:26 am

what can you expect from a forum filled with sexually frustrated teens.
