Thread: Did Ariana Grande influence Mac Miller's death?

Malikai - February 11, 2019, 1:13 pm

I know this is a bit late of a response, and I want to pay full respect to the McCormick family. I've been listening to mac miller my whole childhood and when he passed it was devastating to me. I heard the drama about Ariana Grande having an impact on mac miller's death but I didn't really care, all I was thinking at the time was how we just lost someone so young and talented and for his family members and how dearly he will be missed.

Well, I was listening to one of his songs the other day on my spotify. And in the lyrics it said, "Now when you lay in my arms the pain goes away, euphoria".

Now mac miller was found dead in his home from an overdose on Fentanyl - an opioid painkiller that produces a short-lived euphoria.

He was suffering from drug addiction for a while now, and what after Ariana Granda did maybe the pain was just too unbearable.

Maybe if he had gotten a call or even a text message that day saying how much he is appreciated and loved he wouldn't have been found dead that day.

I pay all respects to both parties and if you have someone suffering from an opioid addiction remember to tell them how much they are appreciated how much they mean to you and how much they are loved.

Mac was doing heavy drugs before Ariana and even after she left. You can't blame her for leaving an environment like that.

It's sad because I grew up basically listening to his music too

Playboy - February 11, 2019, 1:18 pm

Yeah I just recently got into his music - pretty good rapper.

Believe it or not but he hooked up with my xgirlfriend; she left me to go hang out with him.

Yeah, he's always had a bad drug addiction, but after what she did I think the pain was just too unbearable. Was it entirely her fault? No. But I believe it could have been prevented if someone reached out to him in time.

Ya, he just got fucked by his plug on some real shit. Fentanyl in coke? Goddamn.

Faces and Macadelic were some really dark albums about his coke habits and other drugs.

Last year, bit late of a response

I am sure Ariana did not influced him by any means. His drug addictions was just too much, he was a really cool guy. <3

Bluffer - February 11, 2019, 4:05 pm
Drugs can impact a person in ways an addict doesn't see. I don't think she influenced his death much at all.

Flooming - February 11, 2019, 4:51 pm
I'm sure she influenced it but you can't put the whole blame on her.

If you want to believe on some Illuminati conspiracy sure, but it was just an accidental overdose, sadly @OP, probably.

Seeing the love of your life leave you and marry someone else. Only like 2 months after your break up would hurt so damn much.

It was an accidental overdose, from what I read at least.

I mean.. sure maybe he didn't intend to kill himself.

But I think he intended to get as fucked up as possible. Most likely due to Arianna about to get married.

Yeah most likely but i think it was just an accident, shouldn't really be anything out of the ordinary, reminds me of the Lil Peep situation almost.

Love makes sure makes you do some crazy things.

He died from an overdose, he didn't commit suicide.

Its not her fault he fucked around w the wrong drugs after they broke up.

Slankey™ - February 11, 2019, 6:36 pm

Know he was already broken. Listen to the music he released. RIP Mac, BEST DAY EVER will forever be my ish

Halsey - February 11, 2019, 6:38 pm ariana called out the og cardi. bitcha better wat yo self b4 cardi slap b00mrang On her ass

Maskin - February 11, 2019, 6:40 pm

Wow people will probably bash on me for this but I didn't know he was dead...

Playboy - February 11, 2019, 6:41 pm

Wait, last time I heard they didnt find drugs at his home and his autopsy came back clean? Could of been fed false information though.

Pretty sure he was found with fentayl in his body, I'm almost certain.

Well, the thing is he was on these drugs before they broke up. Mac and Ariana dated for years and all the sudden she breaks up with him and tries getting married to another dude.

Mac had just released an entire fucking album for her and she turns around and almost gets married to another dude.

I'm not saying its Ariana's fault for him overdosing that day but his heart was destroyed he had nothing left.

edit: Have you ever turned the radio on and it's a song you and your ex-girlfriend use to listen to? It will give you a little sick feeling in your stomach so you turn it off. Now take that sick feeling and multiply it by 12. That entire album he released was dedicated to her, and she tries getting married to another dude? Just a little fucked up, there's also controversy how she was tweeting shit after the breakup and calling the relationship between her and mac miller toxic.

deon - February 12, 2019, 2:51 am

I think it was an accidental overdose. Many of our musicians are dying from Fentanyl. Prince and Petty off the top of my head. Fentanyl is being used to make counterfeit drugs. Check out the story of Oxygod. He was pressing Fentanyl into counterfeit Oxy and Xanax pills.

Ram - February 12, 2019, 7:37 am

Its stupid to say that cuz you decide for your own actions.
