frankebele10 - February 14, 2019, 4:46 pm

I will publish a guest post on Brigham Young University (byu.edu) with one dofollow backlink to your website.

The article will contain one relevant, contextual link to your website, using a suitable anchor text. There would also be a few other links to authority sites (not your competitors' sites) to make everything look professional and natural.

I will write the post in a clear, engaging and informational style, using an anchor text that will blend naturally with the post content. I will use your site as a reference link in the post, adding credibility to the work, presenting your site as a reliable resource and boosting your SEO ranking.

? Domain Authority (DA): 90

? Link Type: DO-FOLLOW & INDEX

Publishing may take up to 3 days. Please consider this when ordering.

Note That:

1. (NO Homepage or Product pages) The links are done as for informational content, with little or no preference to content with overly commercial purposes. This is to make sure your links pass the editorial review.
2. Cannot work with sites in the following niches: gambling, dating, adult and pharmacy.
3. The pricing includes complete content idealization, creation, pitching, and publication. You do not need to and you cannot provide your own article. You will get a high-quality article of 550+ words.
4. Long-tail anchor texts are preferred, and it shouldn't be overtly commercial or promotional. Please consult us if you're in doubt with your anchor texts.

This is THE backlink you need to stand out from the competition.
