Thread: My neighbour needs payback

burttee - February 16, 2019, 9:03 am

My neighbour needs to get a payback. He is ticking on the wall because i am playing my piano at 0803 Pm. i never ever play after 0900 Pm because the noise. The fact he gets to tick is the limit for me.

I am really mad at this man. He doenst even speak to me about it. I would be willing to make agreement with him, seems normal to me to do this.

Can somebody help me to pay him? He has a website for his company and i feel like giving him a email bomb sms bomb whatsapp bomb or maybe ddosing him. I am wiling to pay for this.

What are my options?

And Yes i made an account to make this thread ?

I would suggest contacting local authorities instead of trying to recruit us for your own personal army.

Not in my country, they won't get you arrested or nothing like that.

Maybe just knock on the door and tell you some bs and leave.

... Hack his WiFi or down it entirely.
Then man in the middle it and get his passwords and shit.

burtee - February 16, 2019, 9:27 am

Can not talk for about 3 years with the man. We let each other live, only he very fucked it up this time. I am mad at him. Gonna give him payback. Really i will ask all possible resources to help. Tomorrow will make search on Tor to get help. Cant do a lot at my own thats shitty so i am in need of some help. Know for sure i will find anyone.

Define ticking please that's where I'm hung up

Legion - February 19, 2019, 5:29 pm

Sounds pretty immature imho.

Poseidon - February 19, 2019, 9:57 pm

Play louder so you can't hear the ticking.

Either that or <https://www.poopsenders.com/>

Damn this is childish to say the least, how does he tick on the wall? is it an apartment building or your house?

Mercury - February 19, 2019, 10:34 pm

Research your municipalities laws regarding excessive noise past a certain time. Play loudly until you legally can't.

Also, don't even admit to owning a piano.

Dope - February 20, 2019, 2:22 am

Maybe try talking about it with him personally.. I don't think payback is always the right choice, because ddosing/hacking him wouldn't solve much imo.

Dude, You need to buy yourself a Headphone. I'm sure everyone won't love the sound of your Piano. I'd just use C4's instead of ticking. you really have a nice neighbor .

CyberStrike - February 20, 2019, 3:23 am

So you play your piano and he what throws a ball at the wall, I kinda don't get what the big deal is here. I am sure he doesn't care for it much like you don't care for his "ticking" on the wall. What if the guy is a drum player, perhaps you guys can practice together or something, honestly you all should resolve this through words. This to me at least doesn't like require anything more than a discussion, start it off by perhaps PAYING for a pizza for the guy perhaps a note " I know my piano playing may not be the best but I hope it doesn't bother you if it does let me know."

It goes a long way to be good to one another.

To be honest, the law is (here) that quiet time is usually after 11pm. So fuck him! Do what you want.

burtee - February 25, 2019, 8:21 am ticking at the wall : with a hammer ticking on a nail or something whats in the wall yet.

This is his way to communicate that he is annoyed because of the sound he hears.

Effexion - February 25, 2019, 8:22 am

Why not knock on his door and say "stop hitting my wall"? No one got balls anymore?

burtee - February 25, 2019, 8:26 am

I am using headphones for playing after 2100 pm. I know it won't get me anything to mess around with him,

But hey its just for my feeling this time...

If you guys share a wall, drill a decent sized hole straight through while hes gone and drill another under it.

Go to the store and get a hose and some cellophane and a bucket, also grab a lot of the strongest strength toilet bowl cleaner and bleach.

Go home and cut the hose to just poke out of his wall a little bit. Secure the other side of the hose in the bucket near the top and fill the bucket with toilet bowl cleaner, then make it airtight with the hose on top of the bucket and some glue to seal gaps, then poke a small hole in the cellophane and pour as much bleach as possible into the hole and seal it quickly when he gets home if you're lucky he'll go to investigate and severely and permanently scar his lung tissue, even if he doesn't inhale his house will reek like chlorine gas for weeks :)
