This. Lol. RFI has been dead for a long time... with the disabling of register_globals and allow_url_includes in php4x(?) and we are now at php7x

It can exist in other languages but it's very obscure and rare.

I have exploits yeah, I don't need help with automating them though. I do have some that I'm trying to sell though.

I can just write automated PoC's myself if necessary though, without giving out a copy of my exploit
