Two shows which i've seen recently which are definitely worth the watch are "Lucifer" and "Limitless"

Although I would recommend seeing the movie Limitless before watching the show :D

I'm on season 1 of game of thrones rn and enjoying that as well.

Also, I watched The Chilling Adventures of Sabrina the other week and that was pretty dope. Not the best but I was into it. And Van Helsing is nice

If you liked Limitless a lot, then you'll love lucifer.

The devil gets tired of running Hell, comes up to the world, opens a nightclub in LA, and becomes a consultant for the LAPD.

Reminded me a lot of Limitless :D

Southpark is my favorite show of all times, It's shows us the world from the best place, They joke about everyone, includes everything, They literally changed the world of TV many by many times, But people don't get it because southpark cleverly putting the 'bad language' to get more attention, and has many hidden messages within it that people don't notice..

safenetwork - March 15, 2019, 2:56 am
