Thread: i dont know if i can deal with the shame of e whoring

i dont know if the shame from e whoring is too much for me or not its hard to deal with. i dont really sext or flirt with dudes or anything i just sell snapchat premium but i feel really weird having tons of dudes trying to send me dick pics and flirt and shit it feels kind of ashaming at the same time i cant work because i have a severe disability. i have chronic fatigue and its one of the worst disabilities out there. you literally have to sleep 12 hours a day, still feel tired, feel sick all day from being tired, constantly have to lay down and can't do anything longer than like 4 hours without wanting to go lay back or go to sleep. if i dont do everything just right like sleep a perfect 12 hours and get a really nice rest i feel like shit the whole day like to the point where i cant function this on top of jobs just paying 11/hr where i live and it being too much for my body it just isnt worth it. i want to just e whore and work for myself and invest but im having trouble feeling ashamed of it. i feel like every day i log on and check my chats i just see some fucking retard sending a dick pic and i dont know what to do its fucking disgusting

If it pays, I'm pretty sure you'll get over it. I got sick of doing it because it didn't pay enough for the amount of time and effort that was needed.

whoever sends you a dick pic , send him a bloody pussy one in return.

you must keep in mind that all we do here is virtual .. nothing is real .. they're losers , not you .. you're making money here , and e-whoring maybe a temporary work for you .. get some cash and invest it in something else (Drop-Shipping Suggested)

You'll get used to it by time.

Eh. I'm bisexual so I like men to a point, but guys who just send their dick pic always look disgusting and in no way am I ever attracted to them. I try to think of it as just another body part, it's no different than what you'd see if you showered in a public locker room or whatever.

Chronic fatigue is a serious issue. Best thing is to see a doctor but you can always see if you can improve your diet.

been doing it 1-2 years :(i just wanna start drop shipping but i dont wanna invest until i have a really good savings and e whoring is making me enough money to the point where investing doesnt affect me much but investing thousands would really hurt me
