What kind of reputations are those ?

I don't agree at all with this

Its called "Popularity" now.. only B-ratings have real meaning. Its just a number.

Well that's not entirely true - you still need a minimum of 100 popularity to upgrade to root. ?

Correct, but many people would agree that when making a transaction on the site, B ratings hold more importance than the r00t upgrade.

It really is just a number I personally am just trying to hit a 4 digit number because it looks pretty solid to me.

Black Hat - February 18, 2019, 3:18 am

I thought we put the nail in the coffin on this one?

Deal - February 18, 2019, 3:19 am

Would you mind elaborating on your point of view OP? Why aren't you agreeing with it.

luke - February 18, 2019, 6:55 am

Nobody of worth gives a fuck about popularity anymore. Most people I see with >1000 popularity are insanely LQ.

lust - February 18, 2019, 8:47 am

1. No one cares about Popularity/Rep anymore.

2. The people that post in giveaways do it for the Popularity/Rep so stopping that would remove the incentive for a majority of people that post in that section

Mix - February 18, 2019, 10:08 am

Popularity isnt rep anymore so its just a number now were as it use to be how known and trusted you are. we have a b rating system for trusted now, popularity is as what is said on the tin.

Black Hat - February 18, 2019, 10:57 am

No one cares about rep. (Although I won't say no) AM I RIGHT?

It's so obvious that i shouldn't even explain it
Asking for a positive rep just because he is giving away something then you are basically forced to rep him
People should be repped for good reasons

Is doing a giveaway not a good reason for getting a rep?
Also no one is forced to do anything.

Exactly my thought. It's a useless function now and have no sense of even calling it "Popularity" when anyone can just beg or swap for it.

So what would be a valid reason of giving reputation points to a user?
I'm sure I've given lots of rep to assholes back when you weren't allowed to ask for it.
You're defined by what you do. I don't know the life story of anyone that I rep. But if I see someone doing a giveaway I'll rep him because that for me, is a good indicator that he's friendly.

Eagle 95 - February 18, 2019, 12:47 pm

You aren't allowed to ask for popularity in freebies section, what's the problem?

You should only rep someone after reading a lot of posts , comments , vouches , opinions from him to know if he is a good guy
For example , everyone repped a guy called Plum (now banned) and that other one called Trappy. Do you know that both of them were / are fucking scammers ?

It shouldn't be allowed also in the member contensts

Karanaggarwal395 - February 18, 2019, 12:50 pm

Being unpopular is so popular nowadays :D

As you can't suggest rules, I'm going to close this. No good can come up from this. It's how Omni wanted it.
