Thread: Anyway To Get The Staff Link Added To The Bottom Bar?

Thornzzz - February 20, 2019, 12:54 am

As the title says, I was wondering if there was anyway possible to get the Staff pages also included in the bottom bar where the Contact Us and Awards are listed. This way it's easily accessible when viewing a thread and posting threads. This way you don't have to go to the homepage or the extras page.

Would be an excellent feature last time I was searching for like 15 minutes before I found it I felt dumb as hell. ?

I've never had trouble actually finding it, but it makes it easier when reading or posting a thread to find posted threads by Omni, Xerotic etc.

Off-topic: Congrats on 6K posts. ?

While this would be useful I feel as if Omni has way more other topics and ideas on his plate for HF right now. Not saying it couldn't be done, I'm sure it'd be very easy for him, it's just one of those finding the time things and there's already so many things him and Xerotic are working on at the moment for us all.

Plus, it's really easy to simply click on 'Memberlist' on the top nav bar, and then just click on 'Show Forum Team' directly under the Search options.

It's also very easy to type in: hackforums.net/showstaff.php

True, isn't such a bad idea however I've also always just used the "showstaff.php" page by typing it it, shit I just need to type "sh" and it'll come up right away lol.

Don't think this is a must have feature, most users find it.

Yeah it's the same exact thing for me, it auto-fills.

It takes literally less than 5 seconds to type in lol.

Whatever you do don't use the search feature you will end up going down the rabbit hole.
