Thread: Please help me write a Business Plan !

kookur - February 22, 2019, 3:18 am

I will tell you about my plan and all about the market conditions, it's going to be for an online e commerce store about which i will tell you privately !

Please help me write a business plan !

Samilly111 - February 22, 2019, 4:57 am

Not looked on the freelancing websites? there may be some help there.

Don't throw all your eggs at a business plan, its important to have but more important to execute your business to perfection.

I can help with some literature I guess.

Good luck!

How would someone "throw all their eggs" into a business plan?

People spend too much time planning and not enough time doing. The art of procrastination. Was simply suggesting that although it's important to have it is impertinent to not satisfy everything with said business plan.

agreed.

OP how about you write your details in the thread i highly doubt anyone will mentor you in private 1 on 1 for free. if you provide your details publicly then other people can also learn from this thread otherwise i suggest you try the FREEBIES category

I disagree.

Procrastination is literally putting it off.
If you have the ability and drive to write out a business plan then you will be better off than 99% of the people on this forum.

nah a huge number of people who want to be entrepreneurs never actually go through with the steps needed to make their "plans" come to reality they just keep "planning" and basically pipe dreaming no lol.

People who want to be entrepreneurs just do the easy things. Writing out a good business plan takes effort. Im not talking about shitty ones that maybe you are accustomed to. Im talking about actual market research, scope, real steps to take.

I second that, all I do is think but never actually plan it out on paper or do research or take steps.

Did I mention how great they are? 100% success rate, 100% customer satisfaction and 70% discount on the actual value, damn I wouldn't miss the chance of getting one.
