They Accused my brother for something he didnt do. They said they buy bust him to selling coke which he didnt do. Now my brother is in the run. Any opinions? Our government is trying to make our drug free. But they keep planting drugs to who ever has a name in their list. Which is so unfair. Any opinions?

Oh shit. Philippines is the ones with the president that condones killing drug dealers right?
Dude your brother should hide for sure. If you know any smugglers then I'd have him smuggled out. I'm serious.

Nothing else you can do than hoping they don't find him.
If he has any way to get out of the country he should.

my friend was just arrested last month for physical injury , gun ban, illegal position of fire arms and death threat .

usually local police are corrupts but fortunately , the member of the SWAT who arrested him is a good guy or else he will be facing multiple cases .

ask your brother to surrender and seek help from the officials (mayor, congressmen or even senators) being a wanted person is not good .

At this point, for your brother, it's about survival. You either submit yourself or continue to stay low.

GiraffeBear - February 27, 2019, 9:04 pm

That sucks. Try and see if there is any way he can make it out of the Phillipines. Going on the run with warrants, especially in a place like the Philippines is SUPER SKETCHY.

Dope - February 27, 2019, 10:14 pm

Is there a way of getting out of Philippines as an immigrant somehow maybe? Damn I feel so sorry for your brother. I hope he finds a way to a peaceful life.
