Years ago, I thought I was the Boss of my Life. I was a popular performing artist and respected for my craft. I was a reliable friend, and sought after private music teacher. I was also someone the men found physically attractive. I understood my attracting powers, or at least I thought I did and I used them as I felt inspired. It seemed like a pretty sustainable lifestyle for me. Until I became a mother. Then Everything shifted! I became insecure about my value and worth, as everything now centered around my daughter. Her father was inconsistent and unreliable in many ways and I found my self confidence hit a new low. IT was fascinating to watch this happen to myself and yet feel ineffective in changing the course my life was now on. As I became more and more desperate for answers, life blessed me immensely with the opportunity to train and learn from a very powerful life coach and personal trainer. I am so grateful for that opportunity and I wish to share with as many as possible! Find out how I turned my life around to become a woman who is powerful, confident, supported, loved deeply and the Boss of My Life. Search for 3dtheboss and don't forget the dot com at the end. Post below and let me know what you think!
