Thread: trying to start a drop shipping company

weirdgurl91 - February 27, 2019, 3:40 pm

hey I just found out about dropshipping! and I have a few questions! so I would really appreciate any advice or help any one could give me!!!!

1. It says the best way to go about things is to come up with a "niche" well the niche I have decided on is selling smart sex toys! do you think that this would be a profitable "niche"?
 2. I have had the smart sex toy idea for a little while now but I am having trouble coming up w a good name...bc I can't buy a domain unless I know what I'm going to name my business!!! can I have a few suggestions!!
 3. I read somewhere that my best bet would be to make a blog and make it about reviews of the sex toys I sell then adding links to the reviews that will direct them to my store...are there any other methods I could choose from...bc for real idk how great a blogging I would be....
 - 4....I have no idea how to build a website or blog...lol is there any easy quick way to learn?
- as you can tell I really have no clue as to what I am doing so please a little help you be super!!!

1. How are you going to advertise it? I believe sex-related products are banned from Facebook & IG ads.
3. Instagram influencers. If you're going to write a blog, learn SEO.
4. YouTube, or pay someone to make it for you.
