Thread: [\[Official Group\] Entropy - Recruitment](#)

Vanilla - March 4, 2019, 2:57 pm

Introducing, HackForums newest official group... Entropy

RECRUITMENT: OPEN

Overview

Entropy is HackForums.net newest official group. There are several sectors of the Entropy Team, these include the Development, Pentesting, Network-Security and Hardware. Entropy will act as a hub for experts in these fields to offer formal lessons to members to enhance their knowledge and equip them with the tools to contribute positively to the members of HackForums and the wider web for both unpaid and paid services.

Requirements

The following are the determined requirements to be eligible for application - note, in exceptional circumstances this list of requirements may be vetoed in order to give a member the opportunity to join this team.

The requirements are as follows:No legitimate scam reports.

100+ posts

Reputation >30 with a legitimate positive to negative ratio of 97:1 (we will calculate and check this upon your application).

Proficient in written English.

Application

If you are interested in applying to Entropy, please fill out the following form and post to this thread. If you feel you are not as technical in the field of Information Security we encourage you to still apply as we welcome anyone with a drive to learn.

Code [size=large][b][color=#ffffff]What field are you interested in? Please explain why you want to join this field.[/color][b]/size]

[size=large][b][color=#ffffff]Do you have experience in Information Security? If so, what experience do you have?[/color][b]/size]

[size=large][b][color=#ffffff]Are you willing to teach others in knowledgeable fields?[/color][b]/size]

[size=large][b][color=#ffffff]Tell us a bit about yourself! Include your age and region.[/color][b]/size]

[size=medium][color=#ffffff]REPLY_GOES_HERE[/color]/size]

Additional Information

Depending on the number of applicants, we may or may not notify all members that have been unsuccessful on application. We will however make a thread notifying you of all the members in the first intake.

Please: Not getting accepted first time is not a sign of failure - sometimes the best are overlooked. I'm trying my best to mitigate this possibility.

You may apply again in subsequent recruitment threads. We may even ask you to join us if members are kicked/leave.

Please don't PM me if you have been accepted or not - this will only harm future applications.

Only apply once per recruitment cycle.

Do not apply via the user-cp unless we tell you to do so.

Good luck ?

What a lovely userbar!

I wish there was a lounge section within the group so I could join, as I don't have any technical skills.

Good luck!

Currently living here on Asia and I'm 22 years old and I have a full time job as a developer and security manager.

Pikachu - March 4, 2019, 9:14 pm

What field are you interested in? Please explain why you want to join this field.

Mainly Development, since i have dev experience of my own, i would love to join a group with other devs so we can all learn from each other and share some of our past and current projects. I have experience with web development and software development. I have little to som experience with the other fields, if given the chance i would want to expand my knowledge and learn as much as i can from this group and all it's fellow members.

Do you have experience in Information Security? If so, what experience do you have?

I have experience working with web development and software development mainly. I also do have some experience in working with servers/server-side development and configuration.

Are you willing to teach others in knowledgeable fields?

I most definitely am interested in helping others learn what i already know! Not only am i seeking more knowledge, i love to share my knowledge and what i already know to other like-minded individuals who may be interested in learning more.

Tell us a bit about yourself! Include your age and region.

Well, i live in the west coast of the United States, i enjoy working with computers and technology, sometimes i help out some of my friends fix their PC's and build new systems whenever they may need assistance. I am also very spiritual and enjoy learning more about metaphysics, esoteric spirituality, ancient knowledge and more. I am currently working on a VPN project right now, and i have a future side project coming up soon to set up my own website where i talk about crystals, spirituality, ancient wisdom and philosophy.

That's an interesting name to choose. I always enjoy seeing new groups, best of luck!

Malicious - March 4, 2019, 9:37 pm

What field are you interested in? Please explain why you want to join this field.

I am interested in programming, pen-testing & hacking. More specifcily I am interested in developing pen-testing tools used to find vulnerabilities & exploits in systems, also I like making tools you can use for over-all administration & web applications & websites.

I am, however mostly interested in the Development section of this group.

Do you have experience in Information Security? If so, what experience do you have?

I have over 2+ years of pen-testing & hacking in general, mostly Linux but also Windows.

4+ years of C++ experience & learning.

2+ years of C experience & learning.

1+ years of Python experience & learning.

I also know other following things: MySQL / phpMyAdmin, little bit of both HTML and CSS.

If I don't know something I learn it rather quickly.

Are you willing to teach others in knowledgeable fields?

I will contribute to everyone in the group and try to help as many as possible about both pen-testing, hacking & programing.

Tell us a bit about yourself! Include your age and region.

I am Malicious (Former AstroHax) Owner of AstroHax & Astro Logger, Former Owner of GTA 5 kn00x mod menu & GreyLeaks.ru. Also been a developer at deceivedhacks.com and multiple other game hacks.

I live in Sweden with the time zone of Central European Standard Time (GMT+1) And I am 15 years old.

Been using computers since I was about 6 or 7 years old.

Been interested into programming & pen-testing since I was about 8 or 9 years old, started when I was almost 11 and quickly learned C++ to get started.

Hope this application was good enough, and thank you for this amazing group and opportunity.

Slankey™ - March 5, 2019, 7:16 am

What field are you interested in? Please explain why you want to join this field.

Network security or hardware

Do you have experience in Information Security? If so, what experience do you have?

Yes I was a field tech that installed a variety of IoT devices ranging from network switches, ip cameras, access control devices, running data cable and setting up lan rooms. I'd like to note I worked in some of the most secure places, police departments, city halls, evidence labs. 2 years in that field. Been into hacking since 2009.

Are you willing to teach others in knowledgeable fields?

More than willing to teach and learn more myself maybe learn some penetrating testing.

Ombra - March 5, 2019, 9:05 am

Good luck with this group. Looks like an interesting one.

I can't wait for contents to be shared.

Xphile - March 5, 2019, 9:29 am

What field are you interested in? Please explain why you want to join this field.

NetSec - I'm looking to get into a career in networking and eventually pentesting/red teaming, cyber security and hacking have been hobbies of mine since 2011 and I am striving to learn more & constantly evolve what I know.

Do you have experience in Information Security? If so, what experience do you have?

I've been playing CTF games for a number of years and am currently studying for a Bachelor's degree in Cyber Security. Programming-wise I could be doing better, I understand a variety of languages however can only confidently program in Python. I suppose OSINT is among my interests, especially in the context of threat hunting.

Are you willing to teach others in knowledgeable fields?

Absolutely, I'm happy to assist both group members and HF members when I can.

Tell us a bit about yourself! Include your age and region.

I'm 18 and from the UK, trying to get my smarts up and drink a bit less. I am hoping to join this group in order to share and exchange information along with generally connecting with hackers and techies from all walks of life. I suppose anything else you need to know about me will be learned in time.

Information Security is always a great underappreciated topic to talk about. Even though it's 2019, people are still falling victim to malware or phishing pages. I think I always can learn more about the topics that interest me and give something from me in return. If there's a Malware Analyst section, I'll be glad to join.

Do you have experience in Information Security? If so, what experience do you have?

I used to run a Twitter account where I was mainly analyzing malware or discussing online security. I even got invited to VirusBay - a site where researchers can download samples.

I've also developed 2 simple apps:

1. PrincessEvolution (ransomware) vaccine: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=7ygZSzXAO6E>
2. RansomWarrior decryptor.

Are you willing to teach others in knowledgeable fields?

Mainly interested in the Hardware/SW Development. I have many many years with computer hardware and less than a year in software development.

Do you have experience in Information Security? If so, what experience do you have?
I'm on par with a beginner as my knowledge isn't very advanced.

Are you willing to teach others in knowledgeable fields?
I am for more than willing to help others with fields I have experience with. Even if its not within the selected fields of the group.

Tell us a bit about yourself! Include your age and region.
I'm a 19 year old from the United Kingdom (Northern Ireland). I left school at the age of 16 to pursuit self-teaching as I honestly don't believe schools teach well. I'm currently furthering my knowledge on Marketing while teaching myself Spanish, C# & PHP. I mainly watch YouTube and play some games in the little free time that I have.

Thanks for reading and I hope you consider me for a position in your group :)

hash - March 7, 2019, 1:39 am

What field are you interested in? Please explain why you want to join this field.

Pentesting. I'm working as a consultant at a big IT company. I'm mostly active in making architectural designs for challenges customers may have. In my free time I'm actively learning for OSCP, Security+ and other certificates I will be getting in the next 6 months. I enjoy pentesting on the popular platform "Hackthebox".

I can write code in multiple languages but since I'm doing a lot of architecture at my work this is not my daily task anymore. In the architecture world I'm mainly thinking and building IoT solutions (a lot of security). Mostly using microservices with rabbitmq or if you are rich Kafka. Doing this in Azure and using InfluxDB for my telemetry.

If you have any questions please ask.

Do you have experience in Information Security? If so, what experience do you have?

I am currently implementing ISO270001 in a company. Currently we are doing risk workshops for management and afterwards we'll continue writing procedures and stuff. Pretty fun! I also participate in security audits for our developers.

Are you willing to teach others in knowledgeable fields?

Absolutely. I think it will be fun to do some kind of capture the flag, fun and you learn a lot.

Tell us a bit about yourself! Include your age and region.

My timezone is CET and am in my twenties. In my free time I enjoy analog photography, music and enjoying some time off with friends. I would like to participate in this group especially since I'll be farming certificates (company pays). I also really enjoy pentesting and there might be more people doing hackthebox, we can even start a team there! Climb the ladder ?

+10 Years experience of C#

+6 Years experience of Python (I'm rusty since i haven't used it the last few years)

+4 Years experience of C++

+4 Years experience of C

+4 Years experience of AngularJS 1/2

+3 Years experience of PHP

i got a few more but these are the main ones.

Are you willing to teach others in knowledgeable fields?

What field are you interested in?

Development

Please explain why you want to join this field.

I want to join Entropy because I am looking to expand my knowledge of code within other fields and not just my knowledge of Lua within functions and such. I have been trying to see if I can learn a bit more around game development but a lot of the tutorials are just bad and done by people that go to fast or just dont know what they are really doing.

Do you have experience in Information Security? If so, what experience do you have?

I have knowledge of vpn's and protecting my data around the internet, but would be happy to learn more about the field and maybe even get involved

Are you willing to teach others in knowledgeable fields?

If anyone is interested in an old game code then I would be happy to help in the area, I dont just want to join the group to just have a userbar as that just grinds my gears when people join groups for that but I want to see if others are willing to learn from me.

Tell us a bit about yourself! Include your age and region.

I am 20 years of age, I am from England and a big fan of game development I spent a lot of my childhood playing games and as I got older I wanted to know how to make my own things and that game along with time and studying. I came to HF for GFX and such but never really went forward with it as I didnt like my own work and gave up with most of it after about 4 years. yes I know I wasted 4 years but I took it as a learning curve plus I need some Gfx knowledge for Game development and it works great with photoshop work and attaching huds and such for games. Any who I Have been spending many of hours trying to learn other codes but just cant dig into them to well so I would love to be part of the coding community group here at HF.

I'm a 20-something man living in eastern America. I'm a uni student. I like trying to solve interesting problems, browse HF and chat with my friends. I always wanted to be a part of a security and programming focused group (root, null, etc.) but didn't feel I was eligible. Now I think I'm ready. Thanks for the opportunity.

What field are you interested in? Please explain why you want to join this field.
Internet security, as I am currently learning cyber security at uni, as we speak

Do you have experience in Information Security? If so, what experience do you have?
I have some sort of experience due to doing my honours degree at uni, working up towards my master degree

Are you willing to teach others in knowledgeable fields?
If people are willing to learn then I'm happy to teach them yes

Tell us a bit about yourself! Include your age and region.
I am a 29 European male, looking to do some good, and to be able to join a group where I can help and hopefully contribute.

What field are you interested in? Please explain why you want to join this field.
IT technician and security analyst. I'm hoping to meet like minded people who are interested in the same areas as me! Together we could change the world and make these forums an even better place for new comers. I want to meet people who can hold a conversation, who I can give guidance too and have guidance provided to me in time of need. Everyday I am learning something new.

Do you have experience in Information Security? If so, what experience do you have?
I was brought up around computers all my life and have always had a general interest for disassembling and rebuilding computers or fixing faulty ones. I started working in a family run business since the age of 11, by 15 I had achieved a level 1 BTEC IT completion certificate, by 18 I had learned how to code in Python, C++ and C# then I had passed college and moved into university. After a few years break and working solely online as a freelancer in web development and programming I decided to join and I began learning in Bournemouth University and enrolled in a Cyber Security Management course which teaches us all areas to prepare us for the working life which I'm currently still on!

Are you willing to teach others in knowledgeable fields?
Of course! Once I graduate I will be giving back to this community and helping people who have less experience in this sector!

Tell us a bit about yourself! Include your age and region.

I'm 25 years old and live in UK - Non-religious but Jewish by birth. I have always had a interest for computers since I was a child so my mum taught me how to dismantle and rebuild computers from a young age. By the age of 11 I had enough experience to work along side my mother repairing customers computers. This was when windows 2000 was prime. Out of curiosity I began learning about programming and how to design very basic windows applications with shoddy horrible looking GUIs which was just a stepping stone to reach where I'm at now. When I began researching how to hack and what the best programming languages for hacking are, I picked up on python and started to design scripts to aid in hacking like fuzzing scripts to directory brute and brute force scripts for trying to gain access to accounts. Years of practice later and I finally made it into the cyber security management course! I'm still doing it right now!

I hope to be accepted into this group! ?

What field are you interested in? Please explain why you want to join this field.

I want to be a part of your Network-Security and Hardware group. Reason being, such field always fascinated me, and to be a part of a group which offers knowledge and respect people. Albeit, I'm looking forward to sharing my knowledge and excel at Hardware and Security.

Do you have experience in Information Security? If so, what experience do you have?

I'm a Security Researcher, developer and still at the verge of programming. I've been acknowledged by Microsoft, Apple, and a few more sites that are quite popular.

Are you willing to teach others in knowledgeable fields?

I'm very fanatic about whatever I endeavor to do. I follow the old age adage of "Sharing is Caring." Thus, I'm more than ready to share my knowledge, skills, experience, and whatnot.

Tell us a bit about yourself! Include your age and region.

I'm 24 years old and hail from India. Besides, I'm running a Digital Marketing brand, i.e., Rank My Niche where I offer SEO Services.

- Authy Grade (<https://www.authygrade.com/>) is another project where I offer Writing Service.

- Virtuefy Inc (<https://www.virtuefy.com/>) is my oldest project, and recently I've decided to revive it and give it a new structure.

However, I'm open to almost everything and would like to learn more.

What field are you interested in? Please explain why you want to join this field.

Mainly development. I'm interested in learning more, I do my fair share of Web Development but I don't do all that much outside of that these days. I use to be slightly interested in developing Programs and whatnot so I took up C++ and Python but never ended up doing too much with it. But, joining this maybe I'll learn some useful things and it'll drive me to actually put the skills to use for once.

Do you have experience in Information Security? If so, what experience do you have?

I have experience working with web development and software development mainly.

Are you willing to teach others in knowledgeable fields?

If I know how to do it, then I'm willing to help someone else learn of course.

Good luck to all applicants seems like a good group to be in. Big respect for Manny and Nick had nothing but good experiences with them within Samaritans. Looking forward to what you push out. If you're 19 and OSCP certified my mind would be blown. I'm currently getting my Cisco I and Comptia+ (I already could easily pass because I took courses on for these and am well rounded with networking)
