Thread: Torrent Spreading

Reverse Proxy - March 5, 2019, 11:47 am

Does anyone have any experience spreading via torrents?

I can pay you if you can guide me where to spread/what to spread. I think torrent spreading is the way to go.

Even if it was a legit torrent with a readme.txt.lnk (shortcut exploit) in I think it would be really effective.

Please let me know if you have any knowledge in this area. I would appreciate it very much. ?

You have already suggested a very reasonable way of spreading via torrents as most sheep go for the common bullshit and bind directly to the .exe which IMO is just old, sour and lazy. You have actually done some thinking so good job, you will need the following things;

- Seedbox (To get that juice)
- Torrent Accounts (To upload your torrents)

To build a successful torrent network you need to build a brand, start with random shit. Find leaks off other forums, mp3's, new music that you take off YouTube and reupload it can be anything ust DO NOT start spamming executables especially not reposted ones, any decent torrent site will remove you fairly quick. With your seedbox start building a library of uploads then slowly slide in your dirty. Just like you mentioned, readmes, binded files, pdf exploits.

Just get creative.

A seedbox is fairly easy to work out you can find some information on that via Google.

Good luck bud.

Edit: Ransomware? Why would you choose to monetize via Ransomware unless you're directly targeting, I wish I never bothered now.

I have no idea who you are or what you're talking about but please just leave me alone. I have come to HF to learn and socialise with my peeps. You are a disgrace to the HF race. Begone from my thread! Final warning.

__Digital__ - March 5, 2019, 12:09 pm

As it was told to you your better off getting a seedbox and building a reputation with software or music. Then once you have decent reputation then you can begin spreading.

Looks like the OP is banned I doubt its allowed on HF.

Not sure what you're warning is going to do over mine in the past response to this new alt account. I already warned you enough, now you're gone, again. Please just stay away.
