Looks Legit OP.

I hope he pays you back.

Not sure why you decided to trade with this guy when there are plenty of other trusted exchangers -- even ones who will give you a higher rate than this.

You're lucky it's only $9,.

Just $9 it doesn't effect me any. Hopefully I saved someone else from a larger amount.

As far as I know, staff do not deal with disputes, the whole point of them is to make other people aware. Anybody you make a deal with on HF, do a trust scan / search their UID and see their past deal disputes. This is the a very effective way to prevent scams from reoccurring on the same account so long as people check who they are sending money to.

I thought the point of the contract implementation is so disputes have a purpose.
