Definitely worth the price if not more. My problem with most sellers is when purchasing loads they're supposed to remove their malware but I've had some sellers here give me such bad loads that I can see 4 or 5 different malware processes in the process list ? These seem very clean, very HQ and probably worth more than the asking price.

Your prices are so complicated.

Could you explain in simple words what's the difference between HQ and EK bots?

To me, for example, HQ bots are new fresh loads only. All the rest are used sh... low quality.

As I understand:

HQ - fresh (new)

EK - old (used)

am I wrong?

Thank you.

You are totally wrong.

EK = Exploit Kit.

Mainly IE bots so the bots are still fresh but just low quality compared to bots from other spreading methods.

Rest is easy to understand, installs, updates and loads. installs will always be shared shit.

McRoyal - March 21, 2019, 11:54 am

I don't recommend using this service.

Asked for the prices and the source of the USA installs and he talk like a small kid and don't know his shit.

I recommend to use MM and be careful while dealing here he is reselling.

He blames me for not being online to crypt his file then after 5 days create invalid dispute that gets deleted.

I crypted his file, 3 days later he wants recrypt but i was not around in same timezone, he tells its my fault even through he had to pay me for recrypt, always told him my price for crypts was 15 USD. He could have found a crypter another place if i did not reply, he got his bots.
