Thread: What's Los Angeles like?

docka - March 10, 2019, 1:48 pm

I'm considering going to LA but I want to know the opinions of the area from people who've actually been/live there. Is it as good as people make out? Is it really humid, the type of weather where your clothes stick to your body (Really want to know the answer to this question)?

Please let me know thank you.

It's chill, it's not as YouTubers make it out to be. IT just an average place where people are just trying to live out their lives and make money.

If you want the part that YouTubers flaunt stay on the west side or downtown. There's some VERY run down areas in Los Angeles.

I'm not too familiar with it all cause i aren't even from the USA.

Which gangs run LA? Law enforcement, goverment, Mexican Mafia, Piru-Bloods, Crips, Asian Syndicate, various cliques & blocks

All about what neighborhood you're in.

About the climate, winter and fall are cool (still southern CA so can go out in a hoodie MAX) and spring is nice, shorts and a T-shirt. Summer (especially July/August) is when it becomes a desert and makes you want to die.

L.A is honestly pretty disgusting. I have been there plenty of times. Huge homeless population. Drugs and gangs everywhere. I love the city life I have lived in big cities my whole life but L.A is just to gross.

It's a lot of fun. I'm in LA every week and there is always something to do. I'm big into music and there hasn't been a night in my entire life that I haven't been able to track down a band/artist that I like playing somewhere. The sports scene is great. A lot of cool art if that's your cup of tea. Got beaches, mountains, desert, snow, all within 10-90 mins of LA if you want to venture outside of it.

I just got one thing in mind.

I've been to LA many times, like most places there's some areas you may want to avoid due to high crime rates and gang violence but as long as you avoid most of those places you should be fine. There's a lot of cool places in LA. But it's not the best place in the world.

I would love to check out Las Vegas. I never been there yet.

I imagine it is lots of fun.

Who runs the main area of LA like Beverly hills/bel air? I heard MS-13 do if that's what they're called.

Not humid at all IMO. Too many homeless, just like any other large metro area in the US... High crime rate, expensive rent, everyone joining in the rat race. Good place to socialize and meet women but the women here aren't exactly the kind you want to spend your life with. Good luck!

The speck of LA you see on media is the parts you'd want to stay. Most of LA is actually a cesspool of gross. A lot of people in Cali are homeless. I mean certain parts have gov workers that pick up human feces from all the people defecating on the streets.

falkenburry - March 11, 2019, 9:22 pm

The only good thing about LA is the weather.. other than that it's a shithole.

Good luck!California has 25% of the country's homeless, far more than any other state. It's been jumping every year too.

People at UCLA don't even think that.
