Good looking site, but so disorganized. You need to get rid of 90% of your categories since people only seem to be selling accounts and keys mainly

Appreciate the feedback! Yes, currently the categories aren't as populated as we'd like them to be, but we expect those to get filled up very soon ?

I am curious, how would you monetize this? I fail to see any advertisements and worry about data-mining services.

I read your privacy policy, but I am wondering how much of this is actually encrypted, and what level of encryption algorithms are used.

Quote:Passive Collection: When you use the Service, some information is also automatically collected. For example, we may automatically collect certain information such as your Internet Protocol (IP) address, unique device identifier (UDID), your device model and name, your operating system, your browser type, your preferred language, and your activity on the Service. We may also automatically collect certain logistical information in server logs, including information about how you use various features of our service and information about the number, frequency and length of each session. We treat this information as personally identifiable information if we combine it with or link it to any of the identifying information mentioned above. Otherwise, this information is used in the aggregate only.

You must understand this is very worry-some for users on a hacking forum.

If you could clear this up, it would be much appreciated. Thanks.

We won't ever sell any data, but instead offer sellers the ability to promote their listing in various ways in exchange for a small fee. It's comparable to how the admin of this forum makes money: people can sticky threads in specific categories, add nice badges and whatnot.

We've got a similar system: people can sticky listings in categories, promote their listing on the front page, request a verified seller badge and more to come.

(May 7, 2019 10:40 AM)Axe Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Do you ever plan to introduce fees for payments? And what are your plans regarding APIs and offsite payment processing? It entirely depends on how well the listing promotion program does, but we don't plan on adding fees for payments any time soon. In addition, we'll be reaching out to the "V3ndor" group very soon with an exclusive guaranteed 2 year 0% fee.

We currently have a rudimentary API live and are fleshing it out as we speak. Are there any specific API calls you'd like to see us implement? Off-site payment processing will certainly be doable with the API, but we'll also be introducing plugins to make it a lot easier to get up and running.

Hey there! We don't sell any products ourselves, so you'll have to find a seller and ask that person to make a listing on CoinMall. I did find one relevant listing:

<https://www.coinmall.com/i/oeDEa/paypal-to-bitcoin>

Regarding messaging; what error are you getting? I've just tried on Chrome and it works without any issues.

PayPal and/or Stripe payments are sent person-to-person, so your payment never actually touches our platform and is instead directly sent to the seller.

If you want to pay in PayPal, simply find a listing with PayPal enabled and proceed to purchase it. We as a platform check whether the payment's made to the seller, and proceed to show you your purchase details.

Yes, we are currently looking into an automated incentive system which'll reward sellers with discounts and/or promotions, but in the meantime we can also come to case-by-case arrangements with large-volume sellers

We'd be more than happy to accommodate you! In fact, we're going to send out a personal invitation to V3ndors with exclusive perks and features very soon.

As for the referred order: We don't have that yet, but it's very trivial and shouldn't take more than a few days to implement. Currently the seller receives the buyer's name, email and financial details by default, but you can extend it with our form builder to collect as much (or as little) information as you'd like, like so:

This info will be requested from the buyer during the checkout flow, and will be displayed to you on the invoice page. If there's any other specific features you'd like to have implemented, don't hesitate to ask.

Hey there,

1. Did you create a 'Private' store? If so, any listing created in that store is by default made private, so you'll need to click on the 'Show Private' button to show the listing(s)
2. When you add PayPal/Stripe, they are by default enabled for any listing you create, so you'll not need to toggle it on/off for any listing.

If you need any further assistance don't hesitate to ask!

- Added IPN to CoinMall, now you can automate a lot of advanced actions after a buyer has made a purchase
- Added markdown support to listing description and store description. Make texts bold/italic/large and much more
- Made purchase details pop out, so buyers don't get confused about where their purchase details can be found
- Made email required for anonymous buyers
- Numerous other tweaks and bugfixes

More coming soon!
