Sociopaths - General Recruitment

Hello everyone, have you ever wanted to become apart of the Sociopaths group? Well now can be your chance! Sociopaths is now currently looking for new members to join the group! Keep in mind that not everybody that applies will be accepted into the group. In order to qualify for the group, you must meet the requirements of joining our group.

Requirements:

Your account must be at least 1 month old or older.

You must have a minimum of at least 200 high quality Posts.

You must not have a warning level above 50%.

You must not have an unusual trust scan report.

You must have 0 open disputes or scam reports.

You must not be a troll, or a low quality poster.

Accepted members will be given 1 week to prove themselves that they can be a part of this group.

There will be a bi-weekly purge schedule to ensure everybody is doing their part to remain active within the group.

If you ever get kicked from the group, you will have one more chance to re-apply in a month.

List your talents and abilities: Discord Bot creating, Reading, Reverse Engineering, Malware analysis, HTML/PHP.

What are your hobbies?

Currently, my hobbies are reading, writing books for myself, doing malware analysis, and Coding. :)

Will you be able to remain active within the group?

Yep, as of right now I don't have a lot going on in terms of my social life I would spend a lot of time talking to other members and other people on the forum.

Will you be willing to participate in group activities and events?

Of course! Activities in groups are one of the most fun parts and I would never want to miss it.

Will you be able to make at least 1 reply a week and at least 2 quality threads a month?

Yep! I have a lot of time, and contributing by making quality threads and posts is the least I could do.

Why should you be considered to be apart of this group?

I would love to be apart of Sociopaths to make new friends, and have good logical debates/discussions and this group would be great for that. Not only that, it would be a great place to have a discussion with like minded individuals and overall have a great time :)

List your talents and abilities: Currency Exchanging, Gaming, Online Marketing

What are your hobbies?

Gaming and reading books.

Will you be able to remain active within the group?

Yes, of course. I'm always on HF lol.

Will you be willing to participate in group activities and events?

Yes

Will you be able to make at least 1 reply a week and at least 2 quality threads a month?

Yes

Why should you be considered to be apart of this group?

I'm active user who tries to help any member in need. I may not be the most intelligent or have the skills that others on this forum have but I can lend a helping hand to anyone in need.

List your talents and abilities: Gaming (PC) and slots god,

What are your hobbies?

Gaming, learning, discussing interesting things

Will you be able to remain active within the group?

Yes, of course

Will you be willing to participate in group activities and events?

Yes

Will you be able to make at least 1 reply a week and at least 2 quality threads a month?

Yep

Why should you be considered to be apart of this group?

There are some great people within the group so I think it'll be a good opportunity to meet new people and have some great discussions. From my experience on HF, the best discussions and times are usually within groups, so it's always nice to meet new people, learn new things, and possibly make some new friends.

List your talents and abilities: I like to get myself involved in many different things. First of all, I'm a Computer Science student at the moment. I have knowledge of a variety of fields but looking to get an expertise on Networking and Telecommunications. Recently, I found out about the world of CTFs (Capture the Flag) which gained me some entry level knowledge on pen-testing, cryptography and steganography. Moreover, I really enjoy doing GFX. Was doing payed work for members here on HF back in the day and now making stuff for free to keep my skills fresh. A list of technical things I know;

Coding (C / Java / WebApp languages, Mips Assembly)

Networking

PC troubleshooting

PC Building advice

Graphics / Photography

What are your hobbies?

Having plenty of free time as a student, allowed me to get involved in different hobbies. The latest hobby I've gotten myself into, is cryptocurrency investing and trading. Since my return to HF, I've learned so many things about crypto and have already invested. Made some extra money through tradings as well!

Another hobby of mine, is photography. I love street photography as I believe, people's variety of expressions in them, sky-rocket the result. Photography for me is a way to escape from all kinds of concerns.

At last, playing the piano and listening to good music are my other major hobbies, which I invest serious time on.

Will you be able to remain active within the group?

Absolutely.

Will you be willing to participate in group activities and events?

I certainly will.

Will you be able to make at least 1 reply a week and at least 2 quality threads a month?

Can do more than that.

Why should you be considered to be apart of this group?

I'm fairly active on HF since I came back. My socially active personality makes me want to take part in all kinds of communities, meet new people and have productive conversations. A group like Sociopaths, has gathered all kind of individuals I'll be interested to chat with, exchange knowledge and have fun. My will for contribution is my strongest asset.

Thank you for the opportunity!

I should be able to make the post count inside and outside of the group sub-forum, threads for outside might be 1 thread a month, in the sub-forum I would try to do the same.

Why should you be considered to be apart of this group?

Honestly?

I want to stick and see what this groups intentions are as a whole, It would be nice to see a structured group (not saying a lot of the groups I've seen haven't been), just wanting to see what the priorities within the group will be and where the focus will be aimed.

I have great problem solving skills. I work in logistics so I'm very familiar with the industry. I have Office suite experience. Particularly with Excel. I'm familiar with Networking, anonymity in general and computer hardware.

What are your hobbies?

I restore classic Volkswagens and Kawasakis. I also love working around the house, upgrading my living areas and such. I'm currently in the process of building a new gaming PC. I always try to find time to game. It has been sparse lately though unfortunately.

Will you be able to remain active within the group?

For sure. I'm super excited to be considered, and I look forward to potentially getting to know the members more personally.

Will you be willing to participate in group activities and events?

This aspect is 90% of the reason I'm applying. I could use some new things to do to occupy some time and I'd love to participate in interesting activities with like-minded people.

Will you be able to make at least 1 reply a week and at least 2 quality threads a month?

Absolutely. I do this already throughout various areas of Hackforums.

Why should you be considered to be apart of this group?

I should be considered as a new member for various reasons. The first being that I'm a reputable, adult-minded individual. I have intuition to offer and I'm always around when I'm needed. I can represent the group well, which can be proven by my recent posts and threads. I have nothing but good intentions. Thank you very much for your consideration. List your talents and abilities: Socialisation, Coding, Ranting, Sedulous, Social Marketing, Crypto, Investor.

What are your hobbies?

I have a long list of hobbies, But I am only going to list the main ones that I do the most of, My first hobie I would like to add to the list Is computer building. Since I was a child, I always wanted to understand how they worked and as I grew older I learnt everything I could about it, this was back when windows 2000 was about and computers were very very long winded with hardware issues and hard drives being slaves... Bad times. The next one I want to add to the list is the most common thing everyone does with computers... Gaming I spend a lot of my time with my friends gaming and we all do it, I have a range of games I play but I really dont want to join a group for games Thats just well... Simple and to basic for me. The last hobbie I want to add to my list for my app is developing for games. Now I am all about games as you just heard but I tend to find myself Level designing and coding a few things every now and then for myself as I enjoy making my dreams of what I wish was in a game really in the game, I have also found ways to make money from this as its a very handy skill to have and I am very happy to say I have been noticed by many community's (gaming community's) to work with them when I am needed.

Will you be able to remain active within the group?

I find myself very active across the whole of HF and when I am bored of one section I am back to in within the hour, Its an addiction dont ask me why or how. just send some help every now and then.

Will you be willing to participate in group activities and events?

I am more than up for participating in events I have recently been trying to think up a few events for another group I am in but I would happily be willing to see if I could come up with some more if I need to.

Will you be able to make at least 1 reply a week and at least 2 quality threads a month?

I believe that 1 reply a week is a very silly requirement as I am a very social person and will reply to almost everything and anything. If there is something to say I will say it! two threads a month is a very easy target for me to but I would have to think of what people would enjoy.

Why should you be considered to be apart of this group?

I believe I should be considered for the group as I am a very old member of HF and have seen many groups come and go and I see true potential in this group and I think the group should see potential in me, I am here for a long time good or bad I know its a risk but I believe its worth a shot in the dark. I am not here for a UB I am here for the people to interact with within the group. Also as a last thing I thought I should add I know I am not very known as most members within the group but I am trying to become something here at HF and I just need to find the right moment, Thanks for reading!

What are your hobbies?

My hobbies are mainly finding new ways to provide myself with low-effort income streams. As someone who has been spending most of their time online, I know a lot about monetizing and making money. I have had several Shopify stores that hit up to 6 figures revenue in a year, as well as several web hosting services that generates over five figures in revenue per year. I'm also very hooked on gaming - I play DotA 2 and Rust mainly but due to my commitment to my nation's army (conscription), I am usually only able to play over the weekends.

Will you be able to remain active within the group?

Yes, definitely.

Will you be willing to participate in group activities and events?

I'd loved to be an active member when I was in groups, especially Echo where I was a core member.

Will you be able to make at least 1 reply a week and at least 2 quality threads a month?

Yes, I used to make a 50 posts a day in subgroup forums.

Why should you be considered to be apart of this group?

I'm definitely an open person so I'd be able to integrate well with the group. I also can provide many things of value such as my experience and expertise in my fields of interest. I also have no friends anymore because they all left Hack Forums.

What are your hobbies?

Currently studying for university since exams are coming up, gaming and coding. I also used to play basketball semi-professionally.

Will you be able to remain active within the group?

I would be able to, yes.

Will you be willing to participate in group activities and events?

Of course, even though I am studying I have tons of free-time and all so I would be able to attend anything needed unless it was really late my timezone.

Will you be able to make at least 1 reply a week and at least 2 quality threads a month?

Yes, I will.

Why should you be considered to be apart of this group?

I used to be way more active and I left for reasons unknown to me too but since a while ago I am back and browse the forums on the daily, I want to meet new friends and get to know people. I am mostly active in the Python sub-section and the e-Whoring sub-section but If I joined this group then I would be way more active there too.

List your talents and abilities:

What are my talents and abilities? Currently, I don't really have any outstanding abilities or talents, I'm not that fun of a person to be completely honest. Although, I guess I am extremely smart for my age, and have been developing servers between multiple games in the past and present.

What are your hobbies?

What are my hobbies? Currently, I am home schooled and can do what I want whenever I want and I usually work with my father most weeks and help him with his job. When I have free time and I am not working, I love to just sit back and relax and go through the internet and see what's up, especially on this Forum, you find interesting and dumb shit most of the time here, lol. Also love working on cars and shit.

Will you be able to remain active within the group?

Activity for me isn't an issue because like I had stated previously I am home schooled and I mostly come on during some parts of the day, and night. I'll be on everyday posting.

Will you be willing to participate in group activities and events?

Whenever there are events and or activities that take place in this group, I will attend most of them or try to help contribute depending on what that activity or event is based on. I'm pretty open to new things and love to participate in anything that can help me communicate with others.

Will you be able to make at least 1 reply a week and at least 2 quality threads a month?

To me, that isn't an issue, I'm a really high quality member, at least I would like to deem myself as one, and I would never post something on this forum if I didn't think it was low quality, so meeting that requirement is not a big issue for me and that's 100% doable for me.

Why should you be considered to be apart of this group?

I would like to be accepted into this group to be able to socialize with the other high quality members that are in this group. Aside from that, I will also contribute by posting high quality content and replies when I am able to do so. I'm a pretty laid back and chill guy and you guys won't have an issue with activity from me.

Will you be able to remain active within the group?
I'll do my best to be active in this group.

Will you be willing to participate in group activities and events?
Absolutely. I love to be part of group activities/events

Will you be able to make at least 1 reply a week and at least 2 quality threads a month?
Yep, that's for sure.

Why should you be considered to be a part of this group?
I wanted to be a part of this group since it was bought by Kawen. I've also chatted him and he said I should just wait for their recruitment but I wasn't able to participate due to some of my busy schedule. And now, I'm ready to prove myself. Back when I was an active member here, all I do was to share my work for free, checking some products here if they're quality or not and etc.

Well to get a little more in-depth about the group. We only really focus on a couple different things. Once a week we all meet up in a predetermined location in a random part of the world to mix our blood together; effectively becoming blood brethren.

Weekends we generally meet up at Thornzzz's house and dance around pentagrams chanting latin verses.

For sure. don't see why not.

Will you be willing to participate in group activities and events?

Ofcourse, i've already been active on hf since '12 i am looking for an active group where I can make friends and hope to learn a lot.

Will you be able to make at least 1 reply a week and at least 2 quality threads a month?

This will not be a problem, this gives me a reason to go active on HF again.

Why should you be considered to be apart of this group?

I've never had any problems on HF, i've been around for ages and, so i think the question would be, why shouldn't i be considered?

I hope to get accepted, waiting for an invite if i do get accepted!^^

List your talents and abilities: I'm currently learning computer science in The Netherlands, I love coding and that's how I spend most of the day. Besides that I also regularly do gfx work both free/paid.

What are your hobbies?

There are many but what I like most is coding, browsing hf, hitting the gym when I have time available and my ocassional joint, oh I shouldn't lie, binge watching terrible Netflix shows is also a big hobby of mine.

Will you be able to remain active within the group?

Yes, I recently re-joined the forum and I'm gonna stay active this time. I'll have some more free time available in the near future and I plan on spending that time contributing to the forum!

Will you be willing to participate in group activities and events?

Yes, I'd love to!

Will you be able to make at least 1 reply a week and at least 2 quality threads a month?

Absolutely, I can make some gfx or coding tutorials aswell.

Why should you be considered to be apart of this group?

I like to think I'm an overall hq member, I spend most of the time on this forum trying to help others and I will continue to do so. Most people say I have a likable personality and I'm often online chatting with other users when I have free time, I'm also planning to upgrade to ub3r soon. Apart from forum business I feel like I'm actually a sociopath, I haven't tested myself yet but I'm kinda scared to do so, I know I match quite a few of the symptoms.

List your talents and abilities: I used to be pretty good at writing, and I'm trying to get back into that. If there's some way it can be applied for people, I'd be interested in that. Other than that, I can help provide conversation, commentary, opinions, etc. My activity is my most valuable asset right now. I'm still trying to sort out what I want to do with myself. I am however a very sarcastic person, so comedic relief has value, right?

What are your hobbies?

I'm a very heavy gamer, playing a multitude of different games. I'm active on this forum 90% of the day (A little less during my work days, but I check in). I'm a big music enthusiast. I can't create it, but I love discovering new music and upcoming artists, etc. I feel like I have a good ear for it.

Will you be able to remain active within the group?

I love interacting with people and I'm already sliding myself into the Wolfpack and being as active as I can, always looking for an opportunity to dig deeper into the HF community. So yes, I can be active within the group. There's quite a few cool people in it :)

Will you be willing to participate in group activities and events?

Yes! I'm already helping out with a giveaway on the forums and I'm willing to do more of that, as well as any other ideas the group comes up with. I'll also provide some activity in the hacker game if groups become a part of it or a crew is made.

Will you be able to make at least 1 reply a week and at least 2 quality threads a month?

I should be able to crush the post count, I never lack things to say. I'll do my best to provide valuable conversation topics in new threads as time goes on as well, yes.

Why should you be considered to be apart of this group?

I'm fucking awesome. Just kidding. But I do think there are some pretty cool people in the group that I'd like to get to know better, and I think that I can be an active and positive representation of the group in the general HF community.

List your talents and abilities: E-whoring averaging 150$ per day and digital marketing. I have been trading crypto currencies in the past for about a year and a half and made some profit off that but I dont consider myself a veteran in this sport

What are your hobbies?

Go to the gym and hang around here meeting new members exchanging business ideas and helping each other

Will you be able to remain active within the group?

Fuck yeah. Everyday I spend 10 hours a day on my pc MINIMUM

Will you be willing to participate in group activities and events?

Ofuckingcourse

Will you be able to make at least 1 reply a week and at least 2 quality threads a month?

I have been working on a big project the past months and thinking about launching it,so imma provide even more than that probably

Why should you be considered to be apart of this group?

Here is the part that everybody start talking big in order to be accepted. I am not gonna do that. I am a simple hard working guy with some good business ideas. I am not no prodigy kid nor do I consider myself being one. However I believe being a hard worker and patient thinking when you should grab an opportunity and when not. These two qualifications make a good businessman. That's my opinion

List your talents and abilities: Doxing, pretty good at Fortnite (lol), I'd say I'm pretty wise, I have experience in a lot of computer related topics, and I have an insatiable drive to learn.

What are your hobbies?

I love playing games like Runescape, League of Legends, and Fortnite. Apart from that, I am an avid supporter and consumer of marijuana and I'd say my greatest hobby is smoking.

Will you be able to remain active within the group?

Of course, I am constantly browsing HF and communicating with fellow members.

Will you be willing to participate in group activities and events?

Yep ?

Will you be able to make at least 1 reply a week and at least 2 quality threads a month?

Yep

Why should you be considered to be apart of this group?

Too be honest, I don't really have a solid reason as to why you should choose me out of everyone else, but I do bring some significant benefits to the table. I have decent experience in topics like doxing, hacking, exploiting, etc, and I'm always trying to pack as much info as I possibly can into my brain. I am eager to learn from others while at the same time, make long-lasting relationships that extend far beyond HF.

List your talents and abilities:

I am a writer, I write. I write articles for blogs and sites.

I am a March born, so naturally, I can flirt well. Haha, I do that from time to time.

I am super friendly; people seem to enjoy talking with me.

I am always looking to help others.

I know what I am doing, I refrain myself from talking shit.

What are your hobbies?

I love Archery. Cannot wait to start shooting once I get my arrows.

I enjoy binge-watching TV Shows(Not every day though haha)

I read alot, and always on the lookout for something worth reading.

Will you be able to remain active within the group?

Yes, I will be able to remain active within the group. If there's a required minimum activity, I'll be killing it and then some.

Will you be willing to participate in group activities and events?

I would love to participate in group events and activities. I do not see myself, not taking part. I am excited already.

Will you be able to make at least 1 reply a week and at least 2 quality threads a month?

I am super active on HF, and I don't see this a problem. Heck, I would make one reply every day and two quality threads every week

Why should you be considered to be a part of this group?

I feel that this group has an outstanding reputation and wonderful members, and I want to be a part of it. Also, the userbar is great, and I would love to wear it with pride. I understand that you need quality members, and I feel that I can bring my friendliness and willingness to help and make the group all the more interesting. I take an oath that I'll be loyal to this group. I want this group to be my first and my last. If you'll have me.

List your talents and abilities:

I definitely do not have some sort of terrific ability or talent that I am able to show off. I am your normal everyday guy. I suppose you could say cooking is one of my talents or abilities, as I love to cook. I am currently a chef in a (rather high end) restaurant, working nearly full time. Money is a big motivator to me. However, like many other users on HF, I am quite talented at most technological related stuff. I am very involved in the film industry as a production assistant.

I feel as if I should elaborate more on my technological skills. I dabble in a little bit of everything. I have taken graphic design courses and am pretty handy in Photoshop / Illustrator. I can't code from scratch, however, I understand how programming works, I have definitely created programs, and am able to modify open sourced programs. As said, I understand how things work, just takes much documentation reading etc. since coding is not really something I have chosen to be a hobby or make myself more fluent in.

That being said, I am very fluent with Unix/Linux, server administration and management, etc.

What are your hobbies?

As I said before, I love cooking, especially if at home and not being forced to do so per say. I also enjoy playing paintball - it's been one of my hobbies for many many years, however I don't really have the time to play anymore. To be quite honest, I am a pretty boring guy. I go to work, come home and spend time with the old lady and puff on some weed. Just keeping it 100.

Will you be able to remain active within the group?

Of course. If I am a part of a group or something then you can bet that I will be active. I am on HF throughout the day as well. I am an active currency exchanger on the forums. My job allows me to be active most times throughout the day, however you must remember, I am a working adult.

Will you be willing to participate in group activities and events?

YES! However, as stated, I have a work schedule that I am responsible for. If I wouldn't be able to participate in an event I would be very disappointed, but would look forward to next time.

Will you be able to make at least 1 reply a week and at least 2 quality threads a month?

That's all? I am not worried about a post / thread quota... especially if it is that low. I intend on being a part of the group. Not just trying to make posts to keep a userbar or whatever?

Why should you be considered to be apart of this group?

Well. The same reason I am considering to be a part of the group. I want to get to know some of you guys and hope to vibe! Hopefully we can get into some other things off the forums and make some friendships on other platforms aswell. Who knows? If things don't work out, they don't. However, I really would be ecstatic to be accepted into the group, and thank you for reading through my application. Edit: Must I mention, I am definitely looking forward to becoming a member of this group, as it is the only group I have applied to on HF. Not to sound too optimistic, but I hope to hear some feedback on my application soon.

List your talents and abilities: The main thing that im into is trading crypto currencies, I study charts of lots of altcoins and invest into them accordingly, I make all of my decisions by myself, So if I was to join Sociopaths, I could in turn help other members get into trading Crypto-Currencies and make money along with them. I also code in multiple languages if that would be any assistance to your group, I studied 2 years of Computer Science and I am now fluent in Java, C+, C#, HTML, Python. I don't code as much anymore as I'm onto bigger and better projects (Regarding Crypto) But I could also share some of my knowledge about those coding languages with other group members as I would say that I'm very good at them all, could also write some programs for you/other members.

What are your hobbies?

I used to be heavily into gaming, but more recently I'm focusing on my future and making money now while I'm young so I can live independantly and make money doing what I love (Which is trading Crypto-Currencies, I'm really interested in new ICO's/Altcoins, I usually study graphs of what I think would have some potential and then go from there whether or not I want to invest into that coin, If I was in this group I could share some signals and what I think about new coins in general or the direction that crypto currencies are going, Would be able to make some other members money If they followed my signals and my instructions)

Will you be able to remain active within the group?

I used to use OG* (Another forum) But I only registered here a few days ago as I used to use other forums but never really gave this forum a chance, Just didn't have the motivation too, but now I'm gonna be using it all the time and make friends, money & share my knowledge with others so that I can in turn, help them make money and teach them how to trade/code etc. I will be very very active from now on (as you can see already if you compare my posts to my registration date) I'm already very familiar with this forum and cannot wait to make some sort of a good name for myself

Will you be willing to participate in group activities and events?

Yes, 100% and I will also contribute/host giveaways for the other group members, And I would participate in group activities and events gladly, I've been in groups on other forums but they are so much better here.

Will you be able to make at least 1 reply a week and at least 2 quality threads a month?

Yes, I will make way more posts than that and threads, my activity will be outstanding and I will contribute all my free time to this forum/the group, My job is basically trading Cryptocurrencies, So I will always have HackForums open on one of my monitors whilst I trade, So I will ALWAYS be active, i will also be very approachable to all other members

Why should you be considered to be apart of this group?

I feel that alot of members in the group could learn something from me, I will also mentor other members free of cost, To teach them the basics of coding/trading cryptocurrencies and in turn give them a life-skill that they could use in many places/for many things. (Also my other replies would help this answer) I would absolutely LOVE to be apart of this group, Thank you. Please consider me.[/b]

Sure thing, as long as I know what's going on and when I can set some time aside for it

Will you be able to make at least 1 reply a week and at least 2 quality threads a month?

Most likely, the only questionable thing would be the two threads a month. My current work schedule isn't too conducive of spending a ton of time researching topics to make threads on. But I think I can swing it

Why should you be considered to be apart of this group?

I've seen a lot of good and HQ content coming from the group. (Haseo's most recent thread on wifi pentesting comes to mind)

Will you be willing to participate in group activities and events?

Yes, or else I wouldn't want to fill this out or join the group.

Will you be able to make at least 1 reply a week and at least 2 quality threads a month?

Always.

Why should you be considered to be apart of this group?

Because I'm Hitler, and Hitler did nothing wrong. (old joke). But no, because I've been here on HF for a while and if I do get accepted I'd like to use my newfound group as a basis to become more High Quality than I may feel I already am. Others will of course feel I am not as High Quality as some, but then again that's a matter of opinion isn't it?

Doesn't work like that sorry. ? It's not a strict requirement hence why it isn't listed... but active members are ultimately what we're looking for. Don't be disheartened, stick around... we aren't going anywhere.
