You're using a drawing tablet right? I dont know if its the same for adobe illustrator but when I use photoshop with my tablet I have to turn on "use windows ink" in the tablet driver software.

Pretty sure you need a tablet to use that, I think it just means the harder you press down your pen the thicker the line is. There are some decent cheap ones for around $80 I have a deco 03 and it works fine for drawing you dont need anything super expensive
