What makes an award rare is the amount of people with the award. You can check anytime on the Awards page.

<https://hackforums.net/myawards.php?awid=113>

But yes, the lucky purple gift award that is exchangeable for rewards in The Game looks the exact same

Purple gift can be earned by anyone whereas my D-Stat won't be given out ever again due to the SST forum being shut down. There's only 5 on all of HF and the other 4 members don't even use HF anymore. Last time the award was given to someone was in 2016.

Check the post date... far before gifts were released. There were still only 3 purple gifts in existence. And only one owner for them.

Also, cup of joe still only has 1 in existence so I would still argue it is more rare than dstat. Not like it matters, they're all worthless and can easily be obtained through donating.

Anyone else could have donated to Omni and asked for them too. ??? And now anyone can earn them from posting.

Cup of Joe can't be sold to anyone for another few months so that's irrelevant.
