Thread: UID 309943 TUPAC is a certified Ripper / con artist

S4ndman2 - March 22, 2019, 1:44 pm

I just wanted to let the community know that TUPAC (hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=3099434) is a con man. He strung me along for 3 days for a Starbucks checker program that he never made and stole $250.00 btc. I have left screenshots of the entire conversation and all the btc trails. He closed his dispute thread and blocked me so I'm not sure what else I can do to alert others. Btw, you can see from our contact that he did receive the payment.

It is strange how he went from rarely posting on the marketplace to setting up 5+ different exchange threads / services.

Sorry you fell victim to his scam.

Dispute might be legit, Tupac received some money in the address he used for the contract

<https://www.blockchain.com/btc/address/1KGNBnF5EJ7rB1GUAJcNvk9BxYKNWoC7Fe>

But in the dispute he said he did not

I hope you guys can solve this

Honestly, Just wanted to warn others. I can care less about the $250 but I hate the fact that he strings you along for days. If your gonna rip at least have mercy lol.

Luck

Thank you for pointing that flaw out. The other address is in the Skype convo

Definitely seems like Tupac scammed you. It's clear that half the amount was sent to the address in the contract as specified. Hopefully he gets dealt with.

I hope so too, user is online and won't even acknowledge the thread. I suggest no one attempts to trade btc. Also, I believe he has many user names to vouch for himself.

I know. This is the problem about server crash, everything that happened in the last 3 days has been undone. But I'm sure Omni and staff will aim at resolving once the site is functioning properly again.

On another note, excited to see the development of HF now!

All we can do for now is revive this thread so it stays highlighted. Tupac who is now Lexi needs to be shut down again.

Sorry that was my bad. If anything like this happens again I'll message you right away! I did mention it to Vitani though ?
