My team and I have been investing and analyzing certain sectors from stocks to forums like these for the last couple of years. I personally found an investment that my team didn't like but I did it anyways I just wanted to come and flex in this section one time lol

Don't hold your breath. We definitely making head way. This is becoming a daily residual income. I'm averaging $200 a day. Half of that is profits.

My team and I are thinking of creating an automated bot so the people don't really have to worry about the logistics. A truly autopilot. Would you be interested in being part of the beta program if we decide to launch it? You'll probably be the 1/2 vouches. I don't know we're still working on a lot of stuff. We may or may not get to it.

This is definitely scalable. We are still perfecting our investments but overall it's working well. We are definitely confident in the investments and the payouts.
