Thread: What are some things you automate?

Hey guys. I'm just getting into the basics of Python in spare time. At this time I haven't really found a spectacular use for it yet and while that is 100% my fault I'm enjoying my time spent learning. I do better when I'm working towards goals, so I'd like to hear some ideas from you all.

What are some things you've simplified by utilizing Python?

I wrote a library to automatically trade on M1 Finance. taken a couple days but it's starting to pull together.
