hello admin help me please

I was scammed by Tundery. I explain to you :

I order a rootkit and he says he can do it:

I therefore require a contract since I have already been scammed here: ..

meanwhile he asks me my discord to sell me other tools and he sells me infected tools, but I do not tell him anything because I wait for my rootkit and tell him what I think of the tools I just paid.

Here is the proof that he sold me his tools: <https://imgur.com/a/SgSnXzp>

here is the proof that they are all infected: <https://imgur.com/a/ZrDCrEy>

2 days later, Tundery tells me that he is sick as usual, I answer him okay I'm still patient:

and today, against all odds, he tells me to pay the rest of the money.

I said no, I did not get the tool and you ask me to pay the rest, yet in the contract we said 50/50:

I ask him to just make a video that attests that he actually did but nothing made it ..

Tundery is a ripper and his place is not among us on hackforums.

best regards

I was scammed by Tundery. Your transaction took place off-site. Generally if you request staff to help you for these type of things it will end badly for you. The chat service you used for communicating with the seller is also disallowed on HF. I would not expect any staff to come helping you with this, although I may stand corrected.

It is obvious this was a scam or there is some fishy stuff going on here. Definitely would advise anybody to not deal with the user (Tundery).

read what is written please i even put screenshots.

the transaction took place on this forum hence this contract.

Look at the screenshots please because there were 2 transactions: one on this forum with a contract and the other on the discord they have a technique that is to comment under certain publications to offer help to people. and when you write them in pm you become their target.

I do not expect anything from this money, I told myself that it could help feed his family. and that was my contribution.

I have more caliber to continue ...

just be careful
