Thread: Help Setting up Jabber/Pidgin

Walther - April 3, 2019, 1:55 am

I need to set up a Jabber account which I have found is slightly more complicated than just installing a chat client. I have downloaded and installed Pidgen along with OTR but am stuck on setting up the client. I am not sure what to use for "Protocol" but assume its XMPP.

If someone would help me out maybe over TeamViewer ill through ya $5 BTC

Protocol will be xmpp, OMEMO is better then OTR imo.

I will check out OMEMO. I am not sure what config settings to input for xmpp. Its asking for a Domain and some other info. Also not sure if I have to config the Authentication tab?

I am not sure what to do with the link you provided but assume its to test the settings?

You can use any server for example @hacker.im or @xmpp.jp

Its a list of xmpp servers; the websites checks if the server complies with certain standards and looks at if it has stuff like OMEMO encryption.
